Champaign Senior High School

The One

Faculty, students, administrators . . .
These are Champaign High.

Together
They form the whole
From which the groups are made.
The classes, clubs, and teams:
Each
Has its part to play . . .
Yet making up the groups
Are individuals . . .

In the Many

Separate personalities
Who strive not only for the group,
But also for themselves.
Perhaps it is the individuals
Who make the group outstanding;
Perhaps, the other way.

The truth remains that here . . .
One has the chance to be
One of the group . . .
And yet, an individual.

Student Life

Many activities, things to do;
A part of the group yet a life of your own . . .
Often we felt the excitement of social events, honoraries,
and community projects;
Happy to be . . .
A part of the Student Life

The secret's out . . . This "Come-As-You-Are" party finally revealed the unseen world of those radiant girls we see in the halls of CHS. However, the embarrassment of the situation was easily overcome by these seniors.

Parties, Dates Provide Diversion

The school days may seem long and the hours may pass slowly, but when the week-ends arrive we have no trouble making time fly. Then it's time for the parties and dates which we have spent the week planning.

Throughout the year we delight at our after-game hops and may find a group of girls enjoying a dinner party before heading out for a victory. In warm weather a date may involve a round of miniature golf, probably followed by a trip to the Steak'n'Shake for a coke. Or for a hardy group of cold-weather fans, a good toboggan or a pair of skates will suffice for a fun-filled winter evening. To be sure, there are dances to please everyone during the entire school year.

At any rate, whatever the event may include, it is sure to be marked by that certain quality which makes the teenage world, truly, an own world within itself.

Diversion Found in Daily Routines

As the first bell sounds to begin the zero hour classes, the early morning quiet of the halls begin to lift, and students bring another day at CHS to life. The bleary eyes of our early risers are seen clearing as we take advantage of our time before school to exchange conversation, dismount the buses or take care of various tasks. Saying our good-byes we head for class, looking forward to continuing our discussions over a lunch table.

When third hour finally arrives, we rush to the cafeteria where the appetites of all of us find satisfaction in many forms. All sorts of concoctions may be seen, ranging from Diet-Rite-Cola diets to food brought from the nearest drive-in. One may even notice an occasional person eating a normal meal.

As the last bell rings, we head on our way to test make-ups, after school meetings, part-time jobs, shopping sprees, or the long walk home with a friend.

These three brief periods of social activity put a spark in our spirit which makes us feel like we could almost enjoy school.

Early mornings find many sleepy-eyed CHS students boarding the bus for the long ride to school.

An after-school refresher is taken by Medsie Odom and Tom Crum at Steak 'n' Shake, Champaign students' favorite drive-in.

Fads and Fashions

If an interested observer could manage to be in the right places at the right times, he could easily discover the fancies of CHS students at any of our favorite places where people congregate.

How could he come across a group of girls in the cafeteria without hearing the jingling of a million charm bracelets? Or when could he pass by the crowded election booths without noticing the impressive array of patterned hosiery, Weejun loafers, and wheat jeans? And who has ever seen a crowd by the supply room which has not consisted partly of shoulder-bags, madras shirts, and V-neck sweaters? Certainly wherever he went, he could easily note how the tastes of our pupils combine to give CHS a flavor all its own.

However, if this interested observer were also very keen, he could not help noticing that in spite of these fads, each student has added something unique, and we remain, still, individuals.

"All right team, let's get in there and show them we've got pep, steam, and go, go, go. All we need is muscle." CHS Pepettes entertain the student body at a pep assembly.

"Beat Urbana Week"

From Monday until Friday, Beat Urbana Week was filled with growing anticipation. Excitement was revealed by cheers in the halls, poster competition, and the contest for selling chain links, which also afforded a means of raising money for the winning class.

Students wore different clothing depicting daily slogans, such as: boots for "Boot Urbana," crazy hats for "Hats off to Champaign," only socks for "Sock those Tigers," gloves for "We can handle Urbana," clashing outfits for "Clash the Tigers," and colorful rings for "Put a ring around our cross-town rival." The week was climaxed by an assembly led by Pepettes and Student Council, where humorous student skits, awards, speeches from the coaches, and performances by P. E. teachers competing as "cheerleaders" were featured. Whether Champaign won or lost, CHS students still felt a sense of pride in their football and basketball teams.

With his hilarious assembly antics, Basketball Coach Lee Cabutti entertains the CHS student body.

Homecoming

The planning of Homecoming Week, one of the first events that set the year rolling, began early in August. Student Council committees were organized and the events for the biggest week of the year were planned.

The week started with the announcement of the ten queen and king semi-finalists. Posters covered the walls and cheers to incite a victory could be heard resounding through the halls and lunchroom. At the all-school pep assembly the five finalists for king and queen were announced, comical skits were given, and Baton Club received the grand prize of five dollars for winning the miniature float contest.

The object of all the festivities, the game, took place Friday, October 23. At halftime Sandy Conkwright, 1964 Homecoming Queen, was crowned by 1959's Homecoming Queen, Mrs. Carol Sue Rasmussen. At the sock hop following CHS's 34-0 victory over the Decatur Reds, Football King Bill Huston was crowned. The exciting round of events were highlighted Saturday with a semi-formal dance, "Street of Dreams," at which the King and Queen and their courts reigned.

Midway through the assembly, Decatur players, Sara Kretschmer, Karen Hillemier, and Carol Hanson, crumble under CHS's assault.

Let's Dance Again

From the "Howdy Hop" to the end of the basketball season, the sock hops provided the most frequent and popular form of entertainment for CHS students. The traditional "Howdy Hop," sponsored by Student Council, successfully opened the year's round of hops. Aimed at helping the students become acquainted with their new classmates, this hop used a good combo and door prizes to help get things started. The remainder of the hops took place after the CHS football and basketball games, and were sponsored by various school clubs and organizations as money-making projects.

As records and tapes were replaced by well-known local combos, larger-than-ever crowds were attracted to the dance floor, while the refreshment area provided a place to rest or, at least, a moment of relaxation. At intermission, singing groups and local comedians were often found bending their efforts to entertain the watchful onlookers. All in all, the students of CHS agree, "Those hops are the greatest."

When the music starts Kathy Malloy is sure to outdo them all with the latest dance step, the "Monkey."

Taking time out for a rest are Tommy Thomas, Larry Birdsell, and Bobby Ragel.

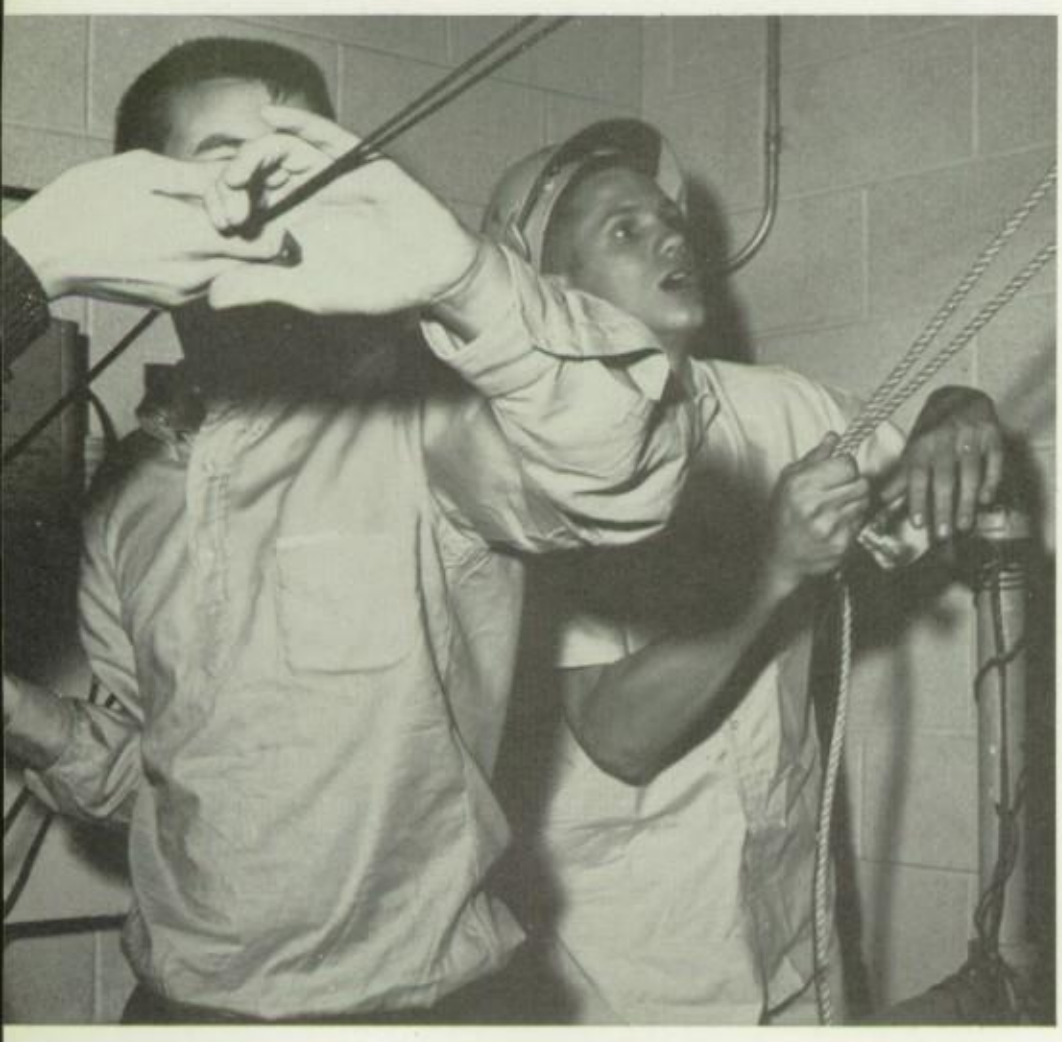
Arranging the studio scenery in anticipation of a successful production are stagehands, Dave Shick and Andy Hoyne.



The annual CHS Stunt Show, "Studio '64," proved to be entirely different from previous years. T. V. director John Cook took the audience behind the scenes to see the hidden world of television. Stagehands arranged scenery right before the eyes of the viewers instead of groping in the dark for props hidden behind a closed curtain. The show was presented for the first time in the Little Theater on the nights of October 15 and 17 to packed houses.

Mr. Greg White, the new Wig 'n' Paint sponsor, with the help of student assistants, John Cook, Carol Culver, and Esther Garret, combined their efforts to produce a unique and very successful production. A few of the acts portraying popular T. V. shows were as follows: The Mickey Mouse Club, My Favorite Martians, The Fugitives, Mr. Novak, Adventures in Paradise, Roaring 20's, and Gunsmoke. Skits in the audience added humor and an informal air to the Stunt Show. Costumes varied from the simplicity of a hillbilly outfit to the dramatic, black and white striped attire of the Fugitives. Dreaming of being famous dancers, the "Studio '64" cleaning ladies introduced fifty, highstepping, senior girls as the June Taylor Dancers climaxing the end of the 1964 CHS Stunt Show.

Christmas Queen Reigns with Santa

Christmastime enthusiasm was expressed in many ways during the weeks prior to vacation. German Club again entertained parents and students at the annual Weihnachtsabend, and Mike Moncrief exhibited his talents as Ol' Saint Nick in the cafeteria. The annual Christmas baskets, sponsored by Student Council, overflowed with canned goods, clothing, and cash contributions for needy families. Huge candycanes were purchased by students, and the window of the main foyer was decorated in an intricate stained-glass design.

Mary Black was chosen by the student body and faculty to reign over the holidy festivities as Miss Merry Christmas.

The Christmas assembly marked the end of the school activities as the band and choirs combined in performance of the "Hallalujah Chorus." The long-awaited two weeks had finally come.

"When We Played Our Charades"

To swim or to dance, that is the question. Actually Vice-Versa King Jeff Trigger had no decision to make: the coach gave the word. He must attend the out-of-town swimming meet on the night of January 9, 1965. Although he couldn't reign at the dance, it wasn't as bad as it seems. Special arrangements were made to announce the King and his court at an all-school assembly.

To the rest of the fellows at CHS the night was a long awaited event. It was the day they just sat back and took it easy while their dates played the role of chauffeurs. Not only was the change heartily welcomed by the boys, but the girls also realized their one big chance to show the guys their conception of an ideal date. From the minute the first couple entered through an elaborately decorated door into the land of "Charades," until the band finished its last tune, the evening proved to be wonderful, but they still knew one thing was missing . . . the king.

Vice-Versa King Jeff Trigger is crowned by his date, Donna Mankey, after the announcement at an assembly.

Janet Vandevender and Dave Easton delight the audience in the hilarious comedy "Time Out for Ginger."

Drama Creates New Interest

The traditional fall plays at CHS have been concerned with serious productions; this year our new dramatic coach, Mr. Greg White, introduced a comical play, "Time Out for Ginger." The hilarious antics of three high school girls after hearing their father's speech on equal rights for women proved to be almost too much, especially when one of them decided to try out for the varsity football team. However disasterous it may have seemed, the nights of November 19 and 20 were delightful for the near capacity audiences.

Wig 'n' Paint's annual winter play, "Stalag 17," repeated the success of the fall play on the evenings of February 4 and 5. This unusual comedy-drama took place in a Nazi war camp where the all-male cast portrayed twenty-one American soldiers in their fight for escape.

With the help of the student director, Esther Garret, and Stage Designer, Mr. Glenn Raney, the stage crew not only made exceptional performance in executing the technicalities, but also produced one of the best sets in recent times. Winding up with the spring productions, it hardly remains to be said that CHS enjoyed a very successful and profitable year in the dramatics department.

Outstanding Students Pool Resources

Two of the highest honors paid to Seniors are election to Boys' or Girls' State and selection as a National Merit Scholarship winner.

Girls' and Boys' State allow exceptional high school students to become state politicians for one week. They are given the opportunity to take part in elections of local and state officials, attend mock political conventions, petition for candidacy, observe the various duties of state officials, associate with the party of their choice, and attend lectures aimed at livening the students' interest in state politics.

The National Merit Scholarship was originated approximately ten years ago by numerous colleges and business organizations that wished to give financial aid to outstanding students so that they might attend a college or university. Those students applying for the scholarship begin the testing program in their junior year. Those who score highest receive either letters of recommendation, which are useful in applying for colleges, or scholarships ranging from $850 to $6,000. Champaign High was proud to have Barb Britton as a national semi-finalist this year.

Barb Britton receives word of her distinguished honor. She qualified as a National Merit Scholarship semi-finalist.

Exchanges

Each year Champaign High sends one teenage ambassador to a foreign country and several throughout the state in exchange for representatives from other schools. It is through these exchanges that we gain a clearer insight into the lives of students in other places.

Every year a junior boy or girl from CHS is carefully selected to represent our school in a European country. In order to be sent abroad, he must first fill out a questionnaire, and then be screened by a special panel of twenty-two faculty members and students. Finally the names of the semi-finalists are sent to the International Student Placement where the finalist is chosen. This year CHS is participating in a new program which will allow one of our students to study for a semester in a foreign school.

Not only are we anxious to learn about life in other countries, but we also feel there is still much to be learned about others in Illinois. For this reason our school participated in five intrastate exchanges this year. The exchanges took place between CHS and the schools of Glennbard, Mount Prospect, Springfield, Blue Mound, and Bellville. In each exchange two students from CHS participated in a week's activities at one of the schools, while we were host to two of their students. In all cases the exchange of ideas and personalities proved to be a useful, and interesting experiment.

HS Adds New Sponsor, Spring Picnic

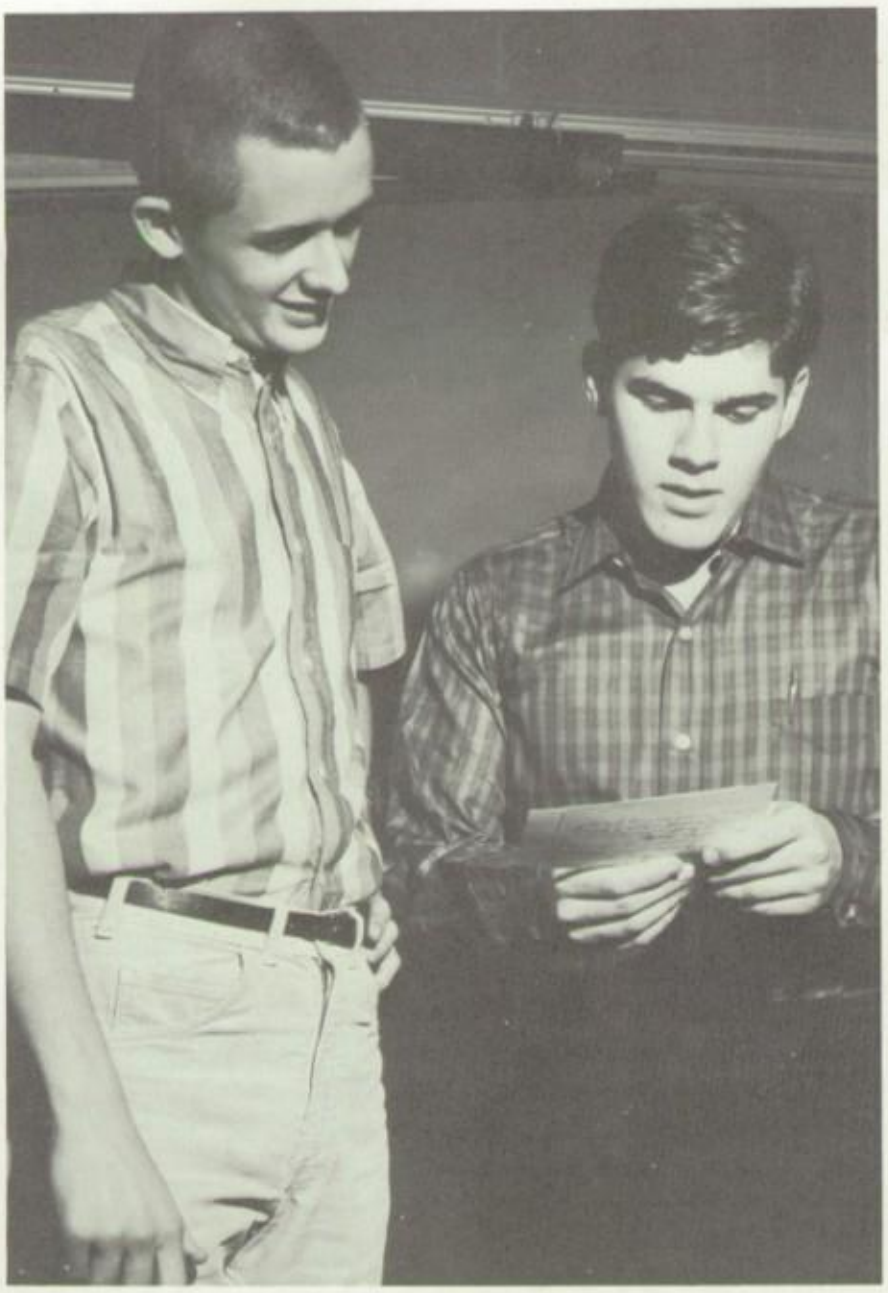
"Learn as if you were to live forever" could well be the motto of the Illini Chapter of the National Honor Society. The honorary constantly presents a challenge to its members to strive for higher goals and more complete development. This year meetings were planned to which guest speakers from the University of Illinois were invited. At one club meeting the members were addressed by a college professor on opportunities in the field of dramatics, and entertainment was provided by a folk singer. The purpose of the club's activities is to widen the cultural knowledge and understanding of students with high scholarship.

This year a new tradition was added in Honor Society: an informal picnic was held to welcome initiates. Formal initiation formed a part of the program at the Society's annual banquet. To be eligible for membership a senior must have a 4.50 scholastic average and excellent citizenship; a junior, excellent citizenship and a 4.75 average.

The Honor Society, sponsored this year by Mr. Barry Moskowitz, raised funds to cover the cost of the formal banquet through bake sales and a hop.

Scholars need relaxation too. Beth Garrigus (seated) and Sherry Walker turn their thoughts from studying to a game of checkers.

Debate Club: Art of Arguing



Pro or con, Lee Pellum and Joe Berkson were always prepared to take a firm stand in CHS debates. Here the two boys are compiling material to back their arguments.

The debaters' techniques of persuasion were put to a test at both district and state debate contests. At the meets each team gives a twelve minute speech and a rebuttal. In the fall the CHS team attended an invitational tournament in Rantoul at which their record was one and one.

On Tuesday afternoons the club held intra-club practice debates on the subject of international control of nuclear weapons, the national high school debate topic for this year. The members debate on three levels: novice, junior and varsity.

Proceeds from a sock hop were used for financing debating trips and for purchasing debating materials. Mrs. Helen Cox and Mrs. Carolyn Pierce from the Annex are the new coaches of the squad.

Student Council Furnishes State

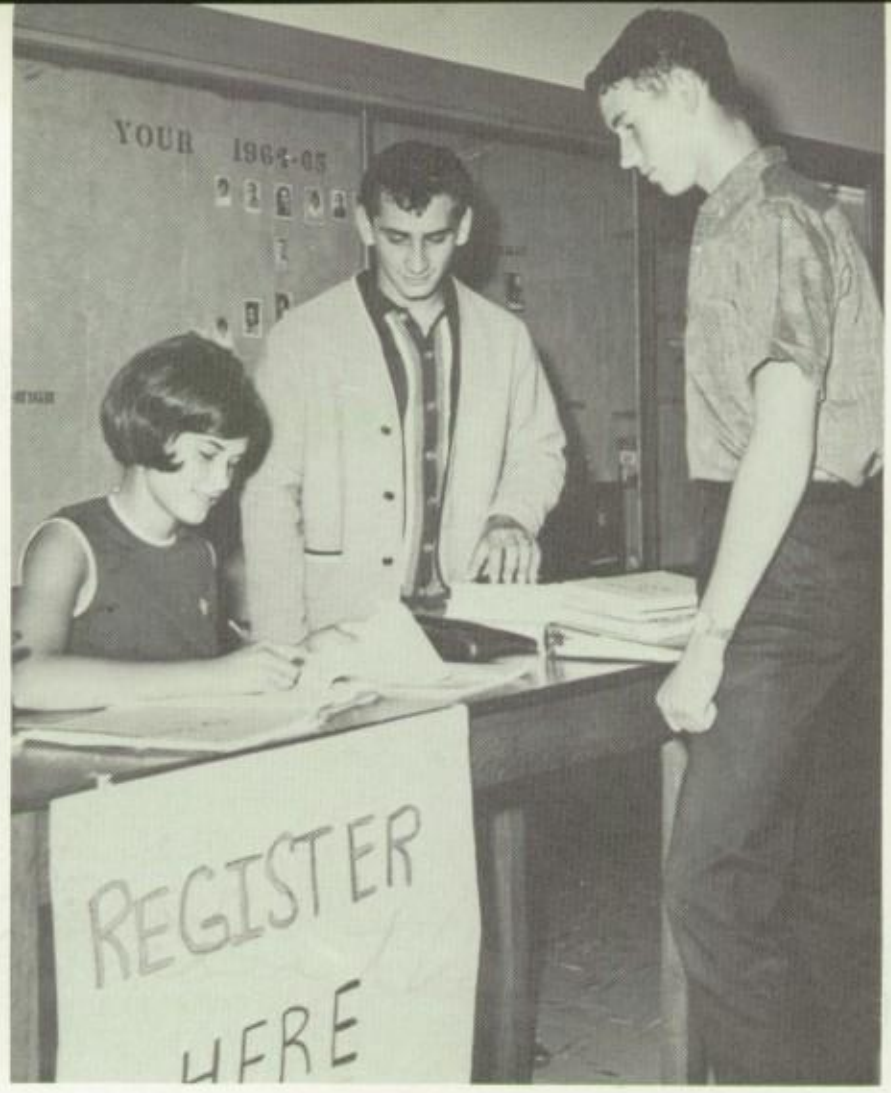
This year's Student Council, headed by President Sara Kretchmer, had in its membership the state Student Council President, Ron Green, who was elected at last spring's state convention. Colonel John Frothingham, CHS advisor, served as state board director.

The Champaign Student Council is one unit in a nationwide Student Council organization, which holds district, state, and national conventions to promote the aims of student leadership.

A new feature of the Council was the distribution of many of its duties among non-Council students. Tri High Council, Election Board, and Foreign Exchange were new committees formed to allow more extensive participation. A mock presidential election and political assembly were engineered by the Council and the history classes.

The Council's problems were increased by the difficulty of serving two buildings which are three miles apart. Six Council members and an assistant sponsor, Mrs. Olga Ashworth, came from the Annex.

Close communication with Uni High and Urbana was maintained by the Tri-High Board. Kay Petersen, John Woods, Elena Quinlan, and Beth Halcrow look up numbers as Bob Simon makes a call.



Alas, we must all return! Mary Black, Student Council member, registers Vince Passalacqua and Frank Nowning at the beginning of the school year.

House Acts on School Problems

The Intra-State Exchange program was the most outstanding activity of the House of Representatives this year. Students from CHS visited schools in other parts of Illinois for one week, while students from other towns spent the week at CHS. The representatives were selected from all classes on the basis of initiative and interest.

For the House of Representatives, one member from each home room and one alternate are chosen. Each representative brings the suggestions of his classmates to the meetings and in return reports back to the home room about House activities. The goal of the House is to increase its scope and develop more inclusive student government. The sponsor is Mr. Carl Nelson.

Jim Schiller (front), Vernon Eroh, Chris Mautz, and Kip Pope screened 86 applications for the Intra-State Exchange program. The task of the committee was to select ten representatives to visit other Illinois schools.

Go, Go, Van Gogh

The initiation of new members proved an interesting and amusing activity for Canvas board this year. The initiates were required to dress in an artist's outfit complete with smock, beret, and pallet in hand. "Go, go, Van Gogh," and "Art is everywhere" were printed on signs worn by the students.

Field trips to the Art Institute in Chicago and the Art Museum in St. Louis were planned by the members of the club. To finance these excursions, plans were made for a popsicle sale to be held after school. In the spring Canvas Board combined efforts with Thespians and Baton Club to sponsor the Beaux Arts Ball, a costume dance held this year for the first time.

At Homecoming the club aided the Student Council by painting the murals used for decorations for the dance. They also made posters for the Disabled American Veteran's poster contest.

To qualify for membership a student must have an A in his present art course, and overall average of 3.00, and additional recommendations from two teachers from other departments.

Maroon Editors Work Sixth Hour

There is one time each year when it pays to be "marooned"—in fact, those who are not will regret it.

For a mere $5.00, the 1965 Maroon, when it is completed by the insertion of the summer supplement covering late sports, prom, and commencement, will provide a permanent record of all that made 1965 a year to remember.

Yearbook operations were expanded this year by the addition of 20 promising sophomores to the staff and two important pieces of equipment: a new Rolliflex camera and a cart and file to roll supplies from room to room. Preparation of the annual was made easier because of the sixth period work session to which ten editors and the head photographer were assigned.

Training for the major staff was begun last summer when the Maroon sent the editor, Linda, to a two-week yearbook camp at the University of Michigan which provided experience in planning layouts, and writing and fitting copy, under the direction of Dr. Glen Hanson, University of Illinois professor of journalism. In addition, three section editors attended a one-week workshop camp at the University of Minnesota.

Election to Quill and Scroll and the winning of a first-class rating on the last Maroon are two honors which helped make worthwhile the 2,047 hours which staff members spent in putting together the 1965 Maroon.

Headlines, copy, captions, and layouts all involve last minute decisions for Linda Wood, editor-in-chief. Linda is caught in a rare moment of relaxation.

News, Features, Sports, Editorials

Attention, student! If you are looking for an up-to-date account of school events, an expression of student opinion, a bit of humor, and outstanding photographs, The Champaign Chronicle is a must.

A beehive of activity can be found every Monday afternoon in room 101, as staffers and editors work frantically to meet deadlines. Under the supervision of Mrs. Evelyn Kovar, the paper is prepared by a team of editors and reporters; equally as important are the typists, photographers, and members of the business staff who sell advertising space to local merchants in order to help finance the paper. The Chronicle is distributed every Friday during lunch periods.

The Chronicle is affiliated with International Quill and Scroll and is past president of the Illinois State High School Press Association. The paper maintains exchanges with other high school newspapers, thus permitting an interchange of ideas.

No, this is not a summit conference, but almost as important! Mike Jackson, managing editor; Kit Kent, business manager; and Mrs. Evelyn Kovar, advisor; check the paper before it goes to press.

Paper-back Book Sales Expanded

"During the Seven Days in May of 1984, the Animal Farm was started by the arrival of The Lion and the Lady." The preceding was one of many reminders to students to buy Quill 'n' Scroll paperback books. Although the club had sold books last year, this was the first time they made paperbacks available in the cafeteria. To encourage teachers to send students to the Quill 'n' Scroll rack for supplementary books, members of the club visited English and history classes with samples of paperbooks. Some titles were specially ordered in in quantity for the use of entire classes. The proceeds from the sale of books buy new titles for the CHS library.

After meeting requirements for membership in Quill 'n' Scroll, the national journalism honorary, students are formally initiated at a banquet. Both Chronicle and Maroon staff members are considered for membership. To be eligible Chronicle reporters must have had one hundred inches of copy published; for members of the Maroon staff, evidence of excellence in writing, editing, or photography and service to the staff are prerequisites.

Rosie Kearns, Quill and Scroll vice president, gives Marti Foster a sales talk on the historical classic Tom Jones, a paperback available from Quill and Scroll's cafeteria bookrack.

The Mighty Pen

What is published twice a year and provides free recreational reading? The answer— The Literary Chronicle!!

The group which chooses the content and puts the pamphlet together is composed of eleven members. Two seniors edit the booklet. In addition, each member of the club is responsible for obtaining well written articles from English teachers.

Any students interested in journalism may apply for membership in the organization. The applicant must submit a paragraph stating his reasons for desiring to join the staff. Mrs. Alice Harnish is the sponsor of Literary Chronicle.

French Gourmets Delight Students

Luscious decorated pastries were produced by the famous French Club gourmets for one of CHS's bake sales this year, with lavish recipes provided by the sponsor, Mr. Daniel Simone. The proceeds from the sale were used to finance the year's activities.

To qualify for the club, a student must have taken at least one year of French or be presently enrolled in a French class at CHS. The club met twice a month for films, lectures, and business meetings.

A pizza party was held in the fall to greet new members and welcome others back! "Have No 'Merci' on the Reds" was the plea of the French Club in the Homecoming Assembly. Their float was constructed by club members and entered in competition with floats from other clubs.

The members' outstanding cooking ability was again witnessed at the International Supper. Native dishes, welcomed by any Frenchman, adorned their table.

With fellow French Club members, Susan DeMoss shares some of the experiences that she had while living in France for a year.

Weihnachtsabend –A Big Success

Der Spooken Stomp, a hop sponsored by German Club, was the highlight of Halloween for many CHS students. In spite of eerie decorations, fun and dancing overpowered all evil spirits. The proceeds from the hop were used for the club's annual Christmas party.

On "Christmas Night" (known to German students as Weihnachtsabend) the students invited their parents to an annual party. Members of the fourth year class presented a play, while other club members organized a choir and served on the welcoming committee.

The club sponsored a table at the International Supper and entered a float in Homecoming competition. This year's float, "Mug the Reds," won second place. Members of German Club must be at least at the second year level. Mr. Paul Baltis is the sponsor.

At Christmas German students brought a foreign air to CHS. Nicky Donze, Marty Ray, Darrell Lookingbill, and Mary Lou Siems prepare for Santa's arrival.

Roamin' Romans

If you see any ancient Romans walking the halls of CHS with pizza in their hands, don't be alarmed. They aren't actually Romans; they're Latin Club members enjoying their spring pizza party!

The club also holds an annual Christmas party, better known as Saturalia, at which Roman togas are the required attire. Costumes are judged and prizes are awarded. Members exchange gifts and to complete the festivities a Roman chariot race is held.

To become a member of Latin Club, a student must have had at least three years of Latin or must be enrolled in third or fourth year Latin. Miss Lois Bottenfield is the sponsor of the club.

As a money-making project, Latin Club joined forces with the French Club to sponsor a hop at the end of January. The money in the treasury was used to finance participation in the Homecoming Assembly and the social activities of the club.

Latin Club participated in the International Supper by providing the Italian table. It was planned that speakers would be invited to report on the ancient civilization of the Romans.

Veni, Vidi, Vinci—"I came, I saw, I conquered"—signifies the wish of the Latin Club. Bob Plue, complete with toga and torch, enters the CHS Homecoming Assembly as the club's human float.

FTA Cadets Get Teaching Experience

An interest in teaching and seventy-five cents are all that is needed for acceptance into FTA. The club is designed to give its members a clearer picture of the teaching world while providing opportunities for service. Club members tutor potential dropouts and read to groups of children on Saturday mornings. For several years the club has provided for the education and partial support of a Columbian schoolboy.

For social activities FTA sponsors a faculty tea and gives a coke party, initiation dessert, and welcoming picnic for new members. Club meetings are enlivened by panel discussions conducted by student teachers and speakers in specialized fields. Each year one meeting is devoted to honoring a CHS teacher.

To support the club's many projects, its members hold bake sales and a hop each year. The club maintains memberships in both state and district associations, with delegates attending the state convention held during the spring each year.

It would be a mistake to portray the club as all work with no benefits: this year two seniors received one-hundred dollar scholarships and seventeen climaxed their membership careers by obtaining long-awaited assignments as cadet teachers.

Jan Johnston, FTA president and a cadet teacher, does an admirable job of capturing the attention of her small pupils. Felice Kaufmann, Alex Hilton, and Kathy Van Horn listen wide-eyed to an exciting story.

Girls Plan Secretarial Careers

Social Security, applying for a job, and planning an office wardrobe were among the topics explored by the Future Secretaries Association at their bi-monthly meetings.

The club, now in its third year, is sponsored by Mrs. Ida Mae Ricketts, and affiliated with the Champaign-Urbana chapter of the National Secretaries Association. Its aim is to stimulate interest in secretarial careers; to this end, the C-U chapter helps the club to plan programs and get speakers.

Each month four girls were chosen, through a drawing, to attend the NSA dinner meeting at Tilden Hall Hotel. Representatives of the CHS club also attended the all-day secretarial workshop at the University of Illinois.

FFA Points Toward Farming Careers

Rat poison and candy are not associated in most cases; the Future Farmers of America, however, sold both products in order to earn money. A sock hop after a game and the sale of Christmas cards also furnished funds for the club's treasury. The proceeds financed a trip to Chiago and one to the national convention which five delegates attended. As a service project the boys delivered Christmas baskets to needy families. Plans were made for an appearance on the television program "American Heritage."

The FFA club at CHS is affiliated with the State Chapter of FFA. Awards are presented at local and state levels, ranging from first-year bronze emblems to gold pins for outstanding achievement. The most coveted award is the National Star Farmer Award.

To qualify for FFA, sponsored by Mr. Lowell Hillen, a boy must have taken a course in agriculture. Members carry projects such as raising feed corn.

Students Step into Business World

Teaming up classroom activities with experience on a part-time job is the object of Distributive Education and Office Occupations. 00 and DE each meet during one period each morning; during afternoons the students work in community stores and offices.

Outside of class the clubs sponsor money-making projects, including a sock hop and a candy sale, to cover expenses of an annual Employer Appreciation Banquet in the spring. 00 and DE combined to host an area meeting in November at which seven schools convened. The highlight of the meeting was a tour of Lincoln Square shopping center.

CC Previews Business Careers

One of the most useful projects which the Commercial Club undertook was sending professional books, texts, and magazines to Pakistan, where they will be used for educational purposes. For several years the club has also sent gifts to the children at Huling Home, an orphanage in Rantoul.

In November the club members visited the business offices at Eisner warehouse where they were able to observe modern office equipment. The highlight of the year was the initiation and presentation of pins. Following the ceremony, a tea was held for parents and friends.

To be eligible for Commercial Club, which is sponsored by Miss Dorothy Munger, Business department head, a student must be enrolled in business education courses. The club provides students opportunities to serve as secretaries to teachers. By doing so, students are able to gain useful experience in the business field.

JETS Take Off Into Second Year

Unlike the group of the same name in a recent movie, the JETS of CHS is a purely constructive club. The JETS, which stands for Junior Engineering Technological Society, is an organization consisting of interested boys who meet for discussions on modern engineering. The club is affiliated with similar organizations at both state and national levels. Mr. Allen Smith is the sponsor of JETS, which was formed two years ago.

Field trips were included in the club's activities, among them a visit to the Chicago Museum of Science and Industry. Club members were encouraged to construct projects for competition in the State Science Fair.

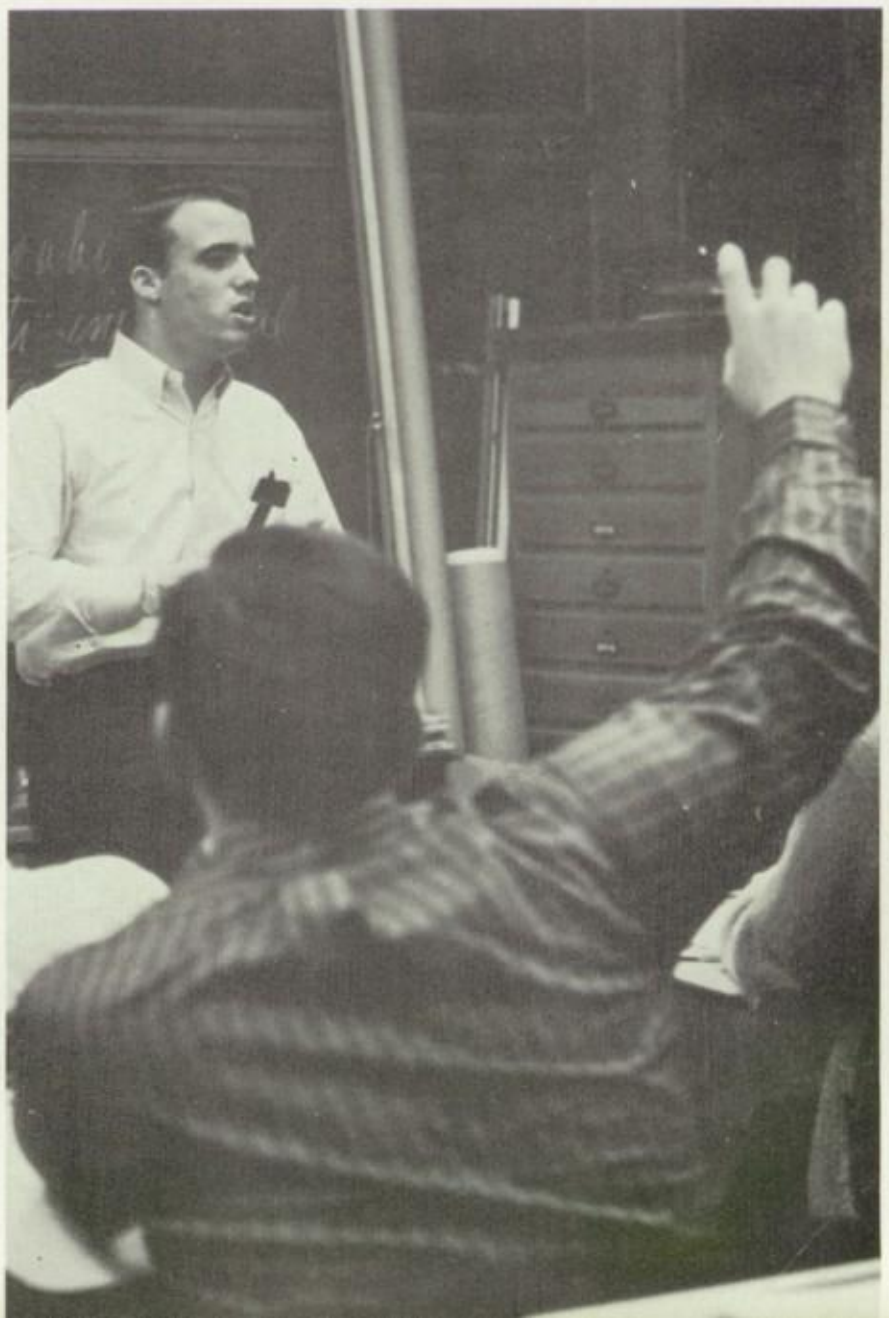
Students Tackle Dropout Problem

Realizing a need for stronger ties between the high school and the community, students of CHS took action to curb the difficulty. The result of the action: the Community Relations Club.

A delegate from the club attended Champaign Youth Council meetings in order to bring the high school in closer contact with the problems of Champaign youth. The purpose of the club is to promote better relations among the diverse socio-economic groups in the school and community. One important project was encouraged by a movie shown at CHS; the club members worked with the problem of school dropouts.

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Ed Palmer and Mr. Wally Lehman, the club worked through the teachers at CHS to sponsor a tutoring program. The club attempted to broaden the awareness of teens concerning current social issues. The members also worked with civic organizations in the community to promote leadership and citizenship.



Student participation was the key to the Community Relations Club's success. John Cook, president, gets suggestions from other club members for ways club projects could be put into effect.

Modern Dancers Leap Into Action

A girl collapsing in a heap on the floor isn't really fainting; she's simply practicing her Orchesis routine!

Orchesis, sponsored by Miss Paulette DiUlio, is the modern dance club, which is open to sophomore, junior and senior girls. Attendance at fall workshops of modern dance are required for membership. At the workshops prospective members are taught the basic skills of modern dance. When the workshops are completed, the initiates prepare dance routines which they present to the other members. In the past the club has attended state workshops at the University of Illinois, where the participants were instructed by professors and students on the college level.

The development of dance skills, social poise, and an interest in choreography are the main purposes of the club. The atmosphere of a typical Orchesis meeting is friendly with no feeling of tense competition; the environment is condusive to the easy and relaxed dance sessions. Strenuous exercise may result in sore muscles, but the girls' reward comes from a job well done. The Orchesis members can truly say that they have thrown themselves into their work!

Kathy Rossi, one of eight Orchesis initiates, demonstrates an interpretative routine in which she performs the qualities of a mirror. All initiates must interpret music at tryouts.

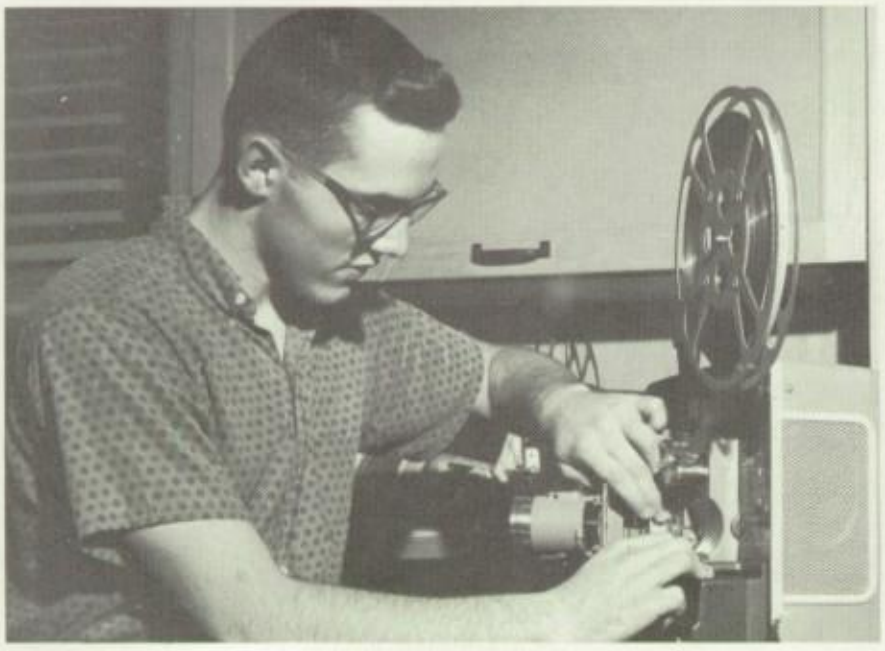
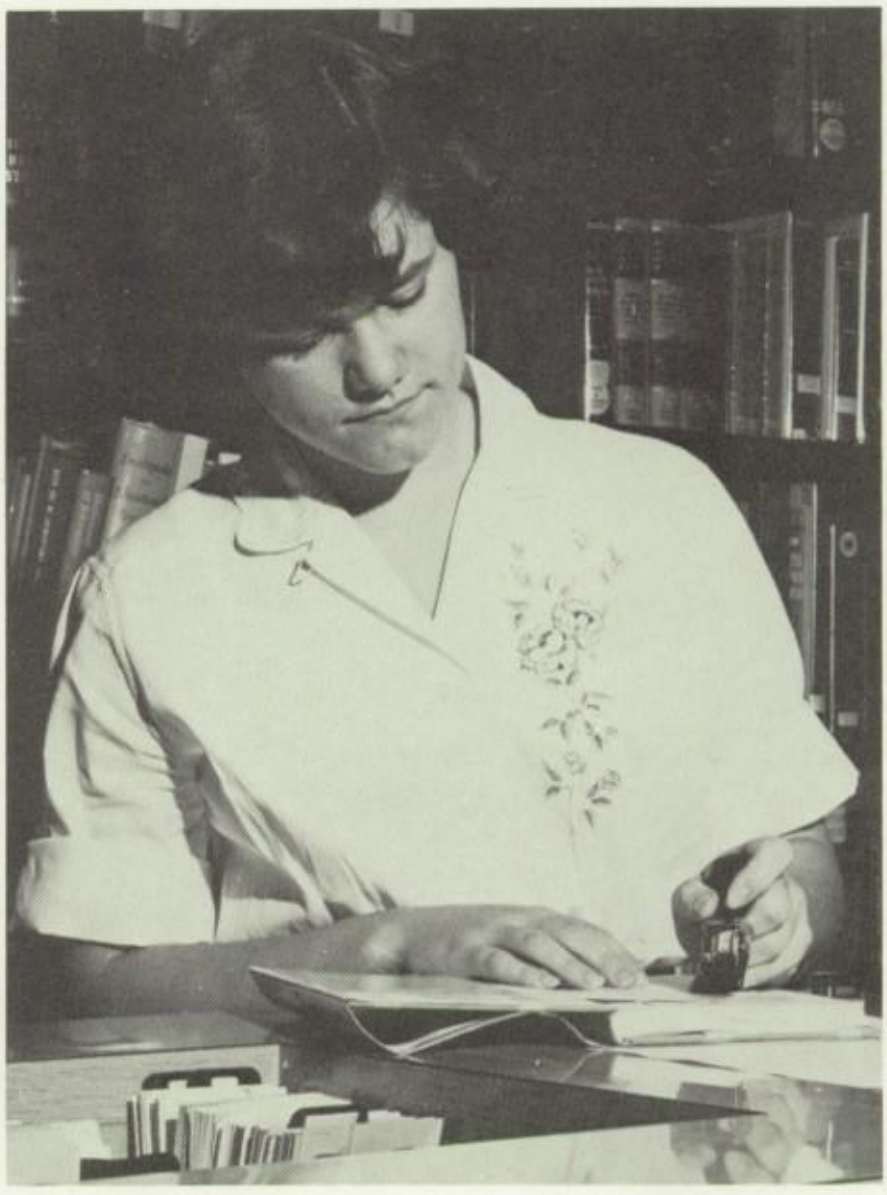
Read and Learn; Look and See

The members of Library-Projector Club perform two useful services to CHS. Projector staff members learn the fundamentals of operating, caring for, and repairing projectors, and they demonstrate their skills by aiding teachers in showing films to classes.

The library workers are required to spend one hour daily before, during, or after school checking books in and out and keeping the library in order.

Sherry Mitchell (right) a member of the L-P Club, checks out a book as part of her duty as a student librarian. Melvin White, also a member of L-P, assists a teacher by showing a film to a social studies class.





Fall Play–"Time Out for Ginger"

"If Men Played Cards As Women Do" is certainly an intriguing topic; as the title of the CHS faculty play, it proved hilarious. Besides the faculty play, Wig 'n' Paint produced the fall Stunt Show, held for the first time in the Little Theater rather than in the boys' gym. The production, "Studio 77," presented an "on the set" view of what really happens when a television show goes on the air.

A new CHS event, the Beaux Arts Ball, was sponsored in the spring by Wig 'n' Paint and the music and art departments. Students chose costumes for the masquerade which carried out the theme announced in advance by the club. Wig 'n' Paint handled ticket sales and publicity for the dance.

At club meetings, speakers, films and oral reports provided members with information about the field of dramatics. This year the club's constitution was revised; it was decided that prospects would qualify for membership by working a certain number of hours on productions. Mr. Greg White sponsors Wig 'n' Paint.

While the phrase "double Thespian" or triple Thespian may puzzle some, to the initiated it simply means that a member of Thespians, the national dramatics honorary society, has doubled or trebled the basic membership requirement of 100 points. Points are earned through participation in drama and speech activities.

Performing in playcasts, participating on the speech team, working behind the scenes on stage crews, serving on the publicity committee, or being an usher during a play are all ways in which students may show their interest in dramatics activities and amass points for Thespians.

New members are initiated in the spring. During the school year, Thespians present a play, proceeds from which are donated to Wig 'n' Paint. This year the goal of the Thespians was to earn money towards the purchase of new production equipment.

Russ Merrifield, as Eddie Davis, and Toni Evans, as Ginger, take time out from rehearsal to go over lines from "Time Out for Ginger." Russ and Toni were two members of a cast of ten who were chosen from tryouts open to all CHS students.

Choral directors from throughout the nation comprised one audience for which the A Cappella Choir performed this year. The group also participated in the Fall Choral Concert, the Christmas Assembly, Spring Senior Concert, and the band and choir tour.

Plans for a performance at the New York World's Fair crystallized from a dream into reality for the Vocalettes. The select group of 25 girls launched a series of money-making projects, including bake sales, a sock hop, and a concert, to finance the trip. The Vocalettes participated in the Choral Concert and made special appearances including singing for an Agriculture Extension meeting at the University of Illinois.

The newly-formed Men's Ensemble, composed of 20 boys selected from A Cappella, performed at the Choral Concert and Pops Concert. The A Cappella Choir, Vocalettes, and Men's Ensemble were directed by Mr. William Olson and Mr. Lloyd Clark.

Musicians Swing in Pops Concert

Excerpts from "Gigi" and "Andalucia Suite" were contributions of the orchestra at the Pops Concert. Another program, Chamber Music Concert, is presented each spring, and selected members participate in the Spring Musical pit orchestra. Conductor of the orchestra is Mr. Joe Giewartowski. The 40 students in the group devote one class period a day to rehearsals.

Madrigals, a mixed vocal group of 20 students, included on their slate of appearances this year performances for the Champaign-Urbana Exchange Club and the University of Illinois music honorary sorority, a banquet at St. Peter's Church in Champaign, and a television program. The group also sang at the Pops Concert, Christmas Assembly, and band and choir tour in February. Sitting around a table singing early English folk music, they are traditionally called Madrigals; but when they sing more popular tunes their name is changed to Choraleers.

Music stand in hand, Carol Roberts hurries to the Little Theater where the orchestra is rehearsing for the Pops Concert.

With 'Elephant Walk'

104 Marching Maroons spent two hours each morning at McKinley Field in the fall, practicing to perfect maneuvers. Under the direction of Mr. Verollton C. Shaul and Mr. William Olson, the CHS band performed at football and basketball games and at pep assemblies. During the year programs such as the Christmas Assembly were presented by the group.

By November the band took on a serious air with the coming of the concert season. For the Concert Band, 90 members were selected from the larger group. In February the band made a long-anticipated three-day tour, with Holland, Michigan, a town famous for its annual tulip festival, the main destination. In March ensembles were selected to participate in district and state contests and to perform for men's service clubs.

Annex band members formed a Cadet Band, under Mr. James Rouintree. Outstanding sophomores from the Annex were allowed to audition for acceptance into the Concert Band.

Playing the right note while keeping in step is a trying task, but Blanche Johnson and Marti Foster have complete control.

"A Cymbal of Victory," the theme of the prize-winning homecoming float, illustrates only one of the Baton Club's many projects. Baton Club, with one-hundred and fifty members, is one of the largest and most active clubs at CHS. The club sponsors after-game hops and the annual Vice Versa Dance. Members of Baton Club display their talents in instrumental and choral concerts, and in the spectacular "Musical Moods," held in the spring. New members, juniors and seniors who have shown an active interest in the music department, are announced and initiated in the fall.

The club planned various money-making projects to help finance the yearly music tour which was taken in February. This year the members sold candy, fruitcakes, and Christmas accessories.

Modern Music Masters is composed of outstanding students in music. Its members are chosen on the basis of talent, leadership, character, scholarship, and service. Both Baton Club and Modern Music Masters are sponsored by Mr. Verrollton Shaul.

Sportsmanship and Fair Play

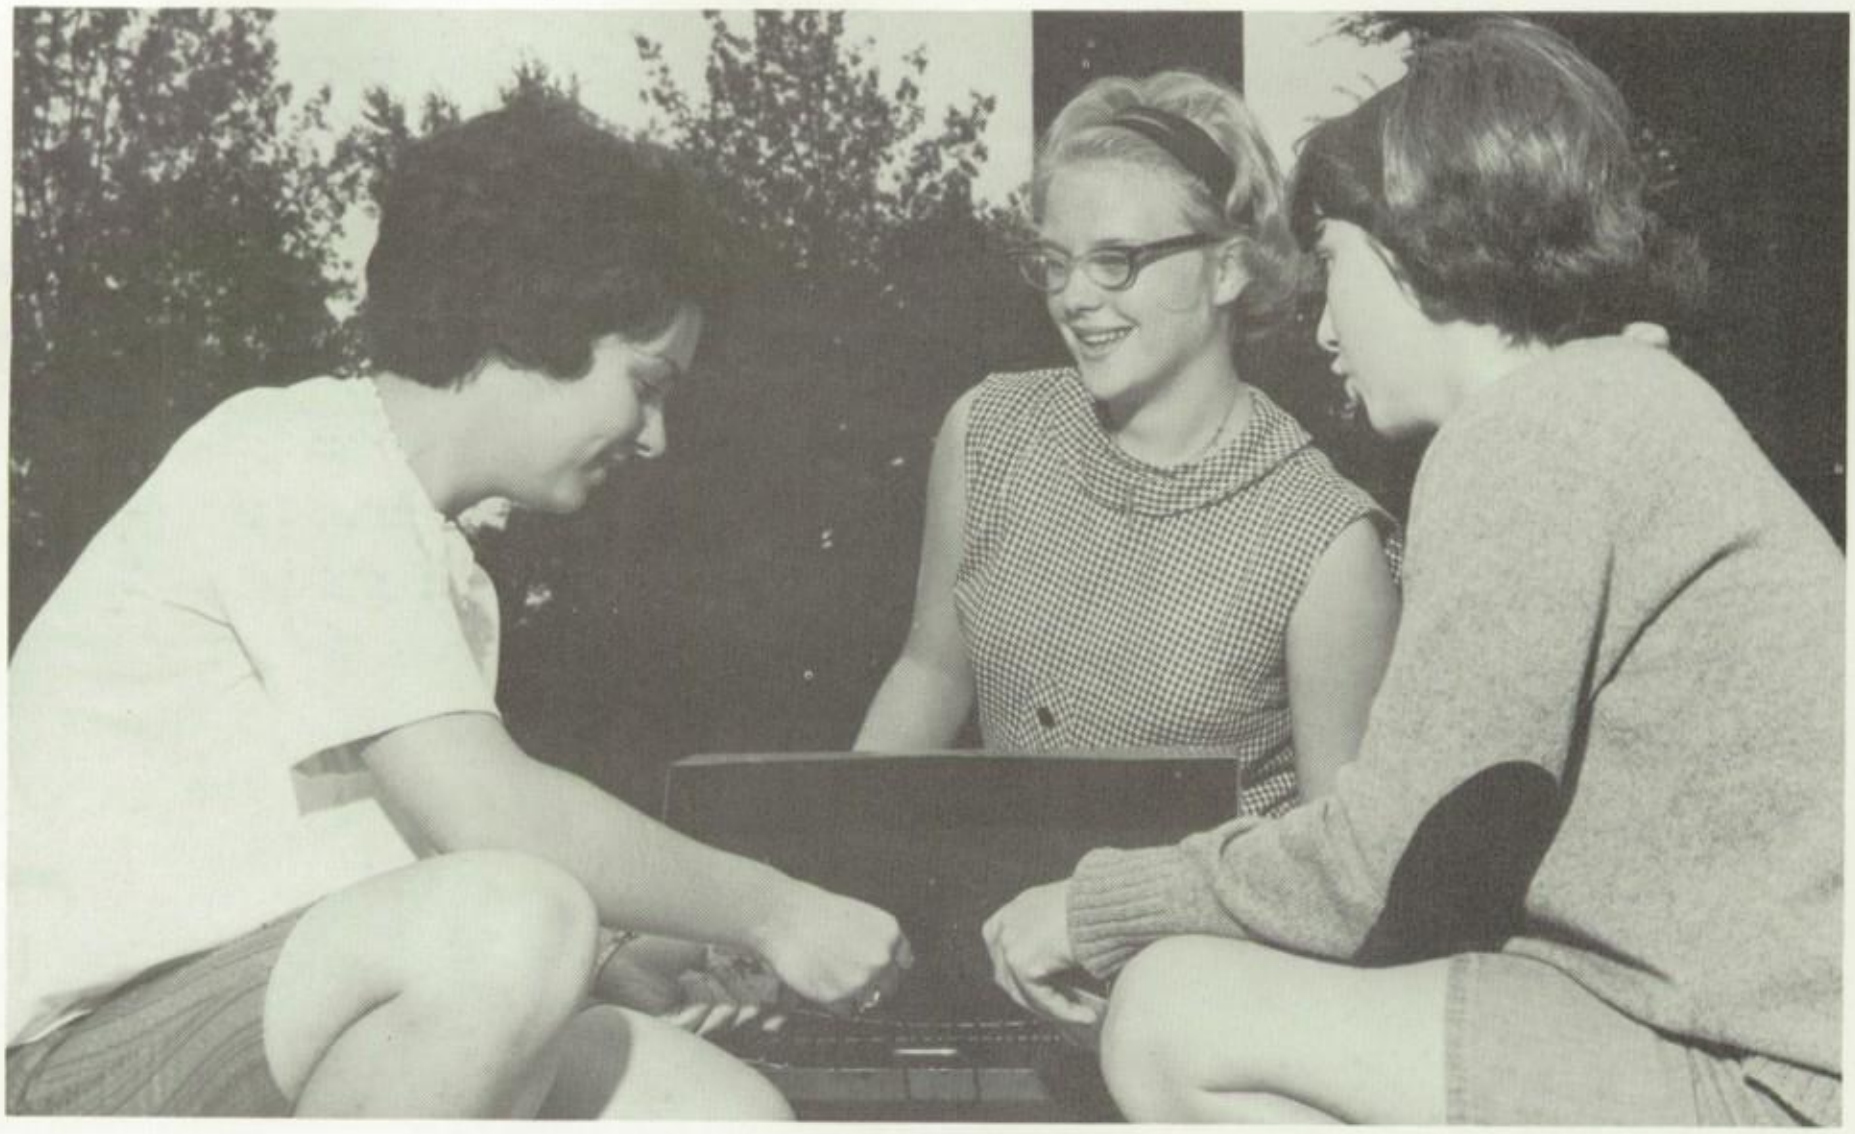
A clothes drive for needy families and a popcorn sale are among the activities which the Girls' Athletic Association sponsored this year. The club also donated the stuffed mascot, Max Maroon, seen at school football and basketball games.

At the May banquet, awards were presented and officers for next year were installed. Pins and letters were given to outstanding members, and to the senior girl who demonstrated the greatest interest and support for GAA, a trophy was presented.

Archery, tennis, swimming, basketball, and bowling are some of the sports which GAA girls took part in this year. By participating in them, members accumulated points toward the minimum of 24 necessary to retain membership.

By encouraging participation in sports GAA hopes to stimulate a sense of fair play and develop leadership qualities. GAA also gives girls who are interested in sports a chance to explore the possibilities of careers for women in the field of athletics. The club's sponsor is Mrs. Wendi Haskell.

At "Daddy Date Night" the members of GAA treated their fathers to a royal evening. Linda Bailey and Barb Fancher encourage Rita Munds to put her team ahead of the fathers'.



At the GAA picnic, Judy Allen, Linda Bailey, and Chris Moss show that they excel at cooking as well as sports.

Pepette Formations Highlight

"Sunrise" practices at McKinley Field started the day with a bang for the Pepettes this fall. The girls gathered at 7:30 a.m. to practice marching formations, despite chilling temperatures and frost-covered ground. The ninety girls who comprise Pepettes performed at all football games and formed an arch for the entrance of the Maroon gridders. Pom-pom routines done to the school song and pep song, played by the band at half-time, entertained fans even on the coldest Friday and Saturday nights.

After a thorough study of their subjects, Pepettes portrayed members of the CHS football team at the Beat Urbana Assembly. During pep assemblies the Pepettes sat as a group on the stage of the gym or in the bleachers. Pepettes formed an aisle at assemblies for Homecoming and Vice-Versa king and queen semi-finalists. For the Homecoming game, the group decorated the field with signs and maroon-and-white streamers.

For each home basketball game, ten girls were chosen to present a flag ceremony. On Fridays of home games, the Pepettes wore their uniforms, maroon skirts and sweatshirts, to school. At games the Pepettes sat in block "C" formation.

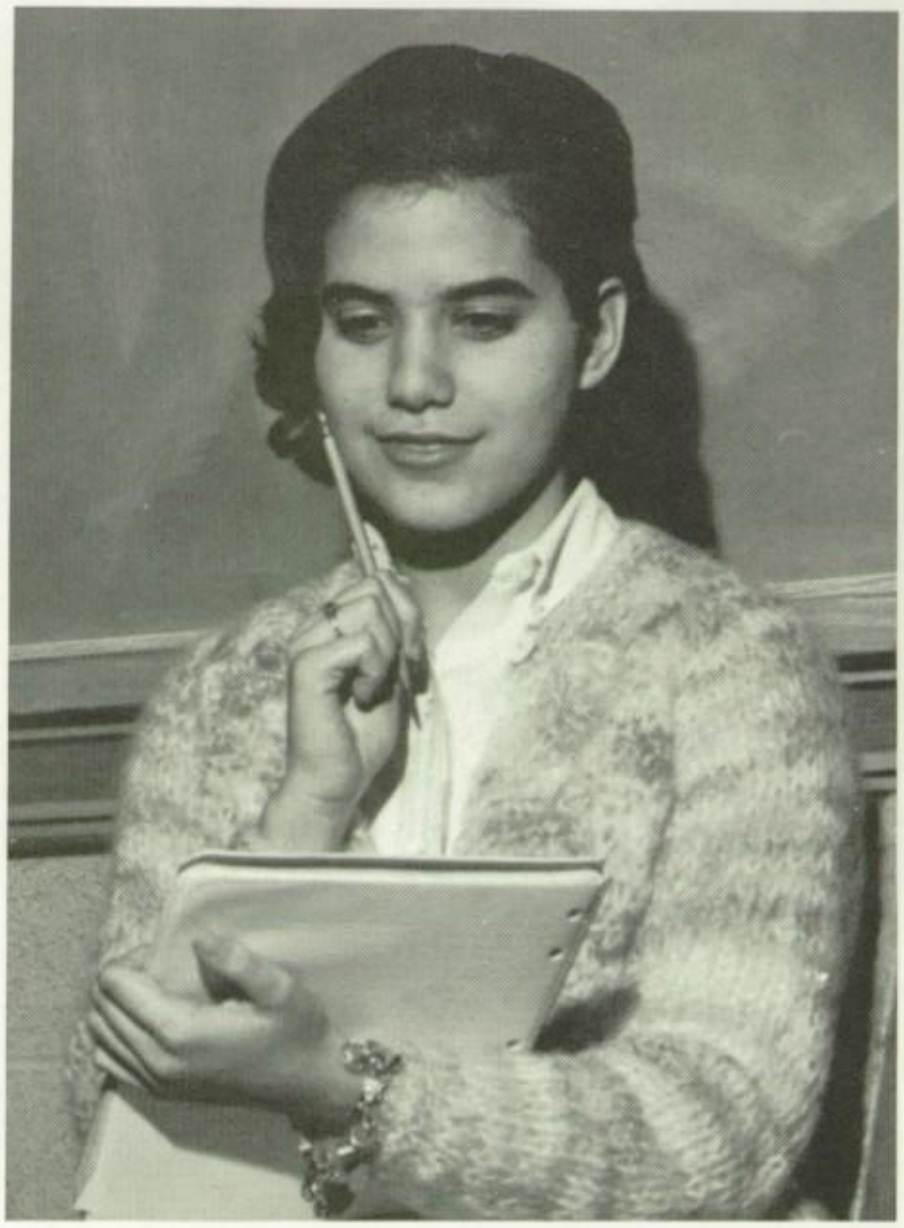
Girls Support Minor Sports

Cheering girls, waving pom-poms, and tumbling Max Maroon added to the excitement at CHS athletic season. The Peparoons, with over 300 members, added spirit to all home games. The club also organized buses for fans to out-of-town games.

To retain membership the girls were required to attend two minor sports events and two "away" games. Sponsored by Mr. Gerald Trimble, the Peparoons decorated the school halls and cafeteria with posters and crepe paper to boost the team to victory.

Senior Becky McCloud was elected by the club the previous year to be the Peparoon mascot, Max Maroon, who works with the cheerleaders as a gymnist. Becky added spice to cheerleading performances by doing flips, cartwheels, and roundoffs during games.



Esther Garret, president of Peparoons, checks the list of students signed up for bus rides to an out-of-town game. The club organized busloads of fans for football and basketball games.

"C"—A Mark of Distinction

In case anyone questions the aim of the young male students holding up ropes during basketball half-times, it is not to build up muscles but rather to keep the crowd off the game court. The boys would be the last to need the exercise; the fact that they are CHS lettermen indicates that they are in good shape.

Besides this responsibility at games, members of "C" Club sponsor a dance and a picnic each year and sometimes raise money by selling refreshments at athletic events.

The club, sponsored by Mr. Richard Wooley, is an honorary organization for CHS athletes who have earned a letter in any sport. Letters are presented at a special all-school assembly. This year "C" Club is composed of 88 members, of which ten are managers, 48 are single-sport lettermen, and 24 are lettermen who have excelled in two or more sports.

Spirit Raisers Cheer

"No, we can't end this cheer with a forward roll!" So ended one argument among the CHS varsity cheerleaders. Forward roll or no, the girls managed to unite their efforts in generating pep and fan support at athletic events.

In the spring the varsity cheerleaders are elected from ten girls chosen by a panel of faculty members on their ability, spirit, and citizenship. The student body votes for the final five. The sophomore squad is chosen each fall by the same method, with the exception that only sophomores vote. Before sophomore tryouts the varsity cheerleaders hold a "clinic" to teach interested sophomores a cheer which must be used in the judging.

The CHS cheering squads work with the Urbana cheerleaders to promote better inter-school relations. Before the twin-city games, the host cheerleaders sponsor a dinner for the opposing squad.

Under the direction of Mrs. Wendi Haskell, the girls practice more than ten hours each week. The cheering squads perform at both football and basketball games and at all pep assemblies.

Possibly the fastest team in Champaign history, our Maroons displayed a tremendous amount of power and speed enroute to a 7-2 season. Led by the expert coaching of Head Coach Tommy Stewart and Assistants Wes Davis and Charlie Sides, the Maroons had the strongest offense in the league. CHS scored 43 touchdowns in nine games and averaged 32 points per game, while holding their opponents to approximately six points.

Highlighting the season was the naming of Bill Huston to the News-Gazette All-State team, and the placing of seven Maroons on the All-Conference teams. Dave Mehnert, Jeff Trigger, and Bill Huston were honored on the first team while Tom Crum, Renard Danenhower, Mike Butler, and Joe Lee were selected on the second squad.

Many seniors played important roles in forming the strong CHS nucleus throughout the season. The twenty-five seniors who were awarded letters by Coach Stewart are pictured individually on the following football pages.

With expert coaching, and with Bill Huston leading the way, our Maroons were the top offensive team in the league. Huston shattered all CHS rushing records with 33 touchdowns in his career, 1,261 yards in one season, and 2,485 yards in his career. There were many other outstanding individuals on this team, such as Jeff Trigger, Dave Mehnert, Rod Lewis, Ron Shirley, Renard Danenhower, Tom Crum, and Ron Green, who composed probably the fastest line in the history of Champaign football. Mike Butler was an outstanding end, catching nine passes for 274 yards and six touchdowns.

In the offensive backfield, Joe Lee had a great year, accounting for 707 yards and nine touchdowns, and was third in the league in scoring. Other valuable ball carriers were Glenn Wood and R. E. Goines. The quarterbacking job was capably handled by Chuck Spencer. An excellent ball-handler and a good passer, he completed 17 out of 33 passes for 423 yards and eight touchdowns. Rocky Peacock, only a junior, was the fullback, but he actually played the part of another lineman. Rocky was an excellent blocker and really helped in opening holes for the backs.

Along with its powerful offense, CHS also possessed a tough defense, which gave up an average of only one touchdown per game, while the offense was scoring about five. The Maroons' strong forward wall consisted of Tom Crum, Jim Johnson, Bruce McGlasson, Dave Mehnert, Ron Green, and Rich Patton, who made it difficult for anyone to gain any yardage up the middle and always put a hard rush on all opposing passers. Backing up this wall was a trio of superb linebackers. Spots were Joe Lee, Lynn Peabody, and Glenn Wood. These boys, along with defensive halfbacks Mike Butler and Bill Huston, were in charge of pass defense and stopping all wide plays.

And so again, the Maroons finished a highly successful season. This 7-2 season brought Coach Tommy Stewart's career record for his 12 coaching seasons at Champaign to a phenomenal 80-18-6.

Sophomore Football

Under Head Coach John Macek and Assistants Richard Wooley and Ed Fredericks, our sophomore football team posted a 3-4 record. With a few more breaks, their record could have been much better, since three of the losses were by margins of either one touchdown or one point. In the three games they won, they impressively shutout their opponents. Although this was not an extremely fast team, it was a strong and powerful one, and it possessed much potential for the varsity in the future.

Highlighting the sophomores' football season was their last game with Stephen Decatur. In this game they displayed a potent offense and a tough defense. While holding Decatur scoreless, their offense scored four touchdowns in route to a 26-0 victory. Although this team lost a couple of squeakers during the season, they showed their best ability and fullest potential in the last game. This was not a team of heroes, but it was one which contained many hard-working players.

Harriers Finish with 4-4-1 Record

Champaign harriers determinedly begin their big meet with cross-town rival, Urbana. Champaign beat the Tigers 26-29, for the Maroons' first victory in three years over the Urbana team. Finish-

The 1964 cross-country team, excellently coached by Harold Jester, was both a success and a disappointment. The team was greatly hindered by injuries, and two valuable runners, Jeff Mills and Dan Spear, were out for almost the entire season.

This year Champaign witnessed the record-breaking running of Frank Hunter. He lowered the Hessel Park 1.8-mile course record to 9:24 and the 2-mile course record to 10:26.6. Beating powerful cross-town rival, Urbana, was one of the harriers' most impressive victories. Another important victory came in the Mattoon meet. There three Champaign runners, Frank Hunter, Jan Hoffmann, and Bill Jarman, shattered the existing course records.

The harriers finished with a 4-4-1 season. The Maroons lost twice to powerful Danville, once to Urbana, and once to Rantoul by only one point. Champaign victories included Argenta, Mattoon, Lincoln, and Urbana. To complete their season, the Maroons placed ninth in the Peoria Invitational and fourth in both the District and the Conference. The 1964 lettermen included the following: Frank Hunter, Captain Bill Jarman, Captain-elect Jan Hoffmann, John Woods, Jim Liggett, Barry Rogers, and Tim Dively.

Maroons Get Hot at Semester Break

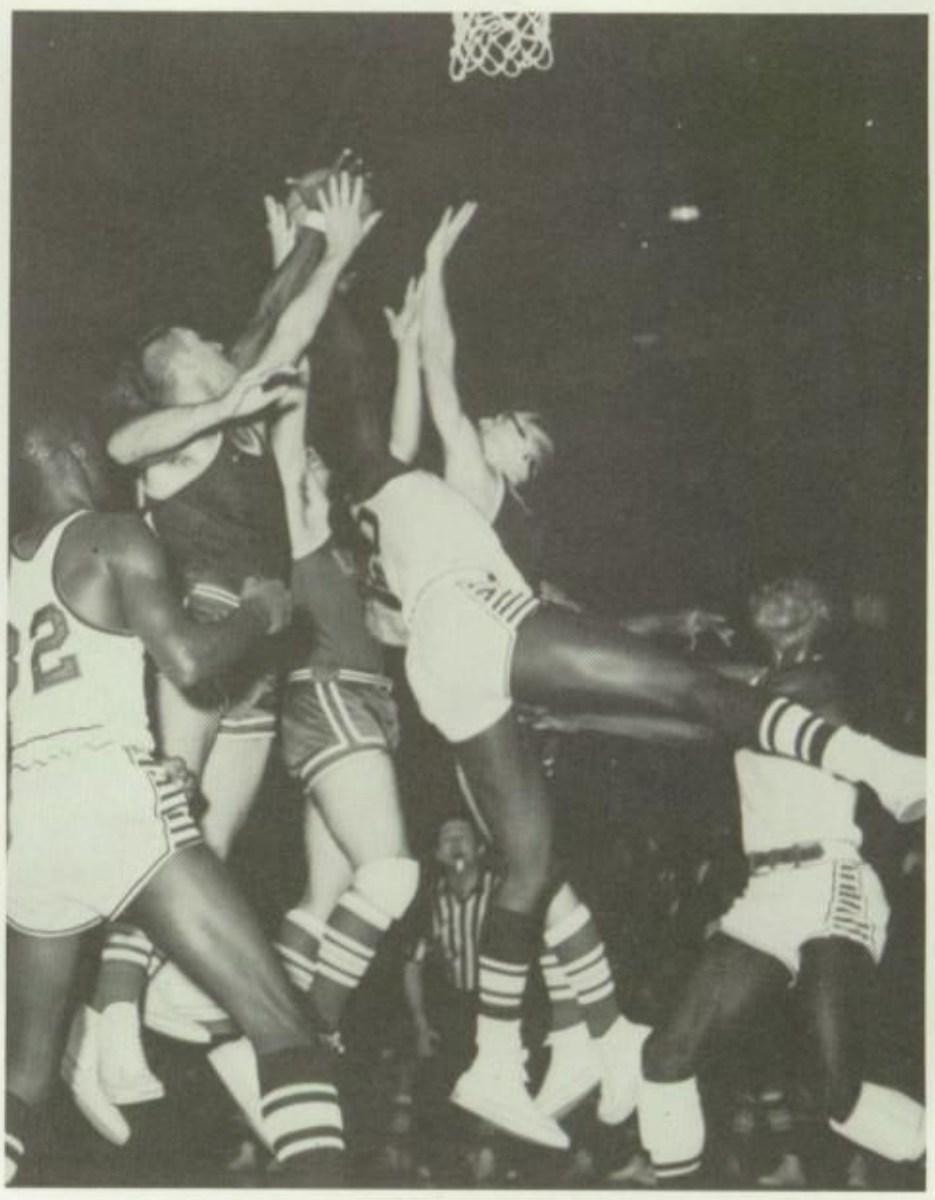
At the beginning of the basketball season, Head Coach Lee Cabutti and Assistant Bob Avery greeted five returning lettermen including, Co-Captains Percy Herod and Chuck Spencer, Mike Butler, and Henry Wood. The Maroons started off the season slowly, but came roaring back to win four out of their last five games before the end of the semester. CHS had a tough schedule playing five teams that were considered tops in the state. As the Maroon went to press, the team had compiled a 8-7 record including four wins and four losses in Big 12 action.

Of the first seven games, CHS won only three. The main difficulty seemed to be that the team couldn't play consistently well on both offense and defense in the same game. Also the Maroons committed too many unnecessary turnovers, thus partly accounting for the defeats.

After Christmas, the Maroons were much improved. They had worked on their ball-handling and could play a capable defensive as well as offensive game. During the stretch before the end of the semester, the team won five out of eight games. For many of these games, Coach Cabutti employed a new type of game strategy. The new attack included both a scoring team and a pressing squad. During one part of the game, the opposition would see a scoring team including five sharpshooters who scored consistently, Chuck Spencer, Percy Herod, Mike Dixon, Taylor Davis, Henry Wood, and Jim Dobrovolny.

The opposition then found themselves playing against a pressing squad, consisting of Herod, Davis, Wood, Spencer, Mike Butler, and John Johnson. The idea was for these boys to pressure the opponents into making costly mistakes that would be to the Maroon's advantage.

Mike Dixon brings the ball down the court in a game against Mattoon. The Maroons went on to win 49-35.



Above, Percy Herod does a bit of fancy dribbling in an attempt to lose his defensivemen for another two-pointer. Right, Johnny Johnson battles three Lincoln players in an attempt to haul down the rebound.

This season, Champaign possessed a fine sophomore basketball team. After ten games they had compiled a 7-3 record. Under Head Coach Charlie Due and assistant Jeff Ferguson, the Junior Maroons performed capably in their opening encounters and appeared to offer a strong foundation for future CHS varsity squads.

Displaying tight defense are sophomores Bob Shapland, Harry Jackson, and Bob Scofield.

Varsity wrestlers—Clockwise according to weight divisions beginning with B. Taylor (95), G. Melchi (103), J. Palmissano (127), G. Kaiser (133), R. Armstrong (145), S. Green (138), R. Shirley (HWT), D. Mehnert (180), S. Moore (165), S. Dyson (154), Doug Mattox (112), and Dennis Mattox (120).

Wrestlers Begin Outstanding Season

In what could be the greatest wrestling team in CHS history, the Maroons were off to a tremendous start. Displaying strong team balance, they were undefeated in dual meet competition and placed first and second, respectively, in the Crawfordsville and Granite City Invitationals. Coach Don Pittman, in his second year at the helm of the wrestling team, along with Coach Rich Wooley, produced a wrestling squad which appears to be unbeatable in the Big 12 Conference.

Leading the way for the grapplers had been captain and three-year regular, Garry Melchi. At mid-year, Garry had won all of his matches, many of which were by pins. Boys having lost only one match are Bob Taylor, Steve Green, and Steve Moore. Along with these four boys John Palmissano, Greg Kaiser, Doug Mattox, Dennis Mattox, Gary Redmon, Fred Hampton, Dave Mehnert, and Ron Shirley were outstanding for CHS this season.

3rd Riverside-Brookfield

The Champaign swimming team started out the season with three impressive victories over Danville, 65-30; arch-rival Urbana, 67-27; and Springfield, 65-30. These first three dual meets were highlighted by some outstanding individual performances by Kip Pope, Dave Frerichs, Jeff Trigger, Art Wolfingbarger, Craig Kelsey, and Jeff Tock.

At Bloomington they were swamped, 68-27, by the powerful defending Big 12 champions. Pope and Mike Haley were the only winners for Champaign.

In Danville CHS was upset in the last event of the meet and were consequently beaten, 51-44. Champaign's depth kept them in the competition as Tom Bonnell, Doug Hatfield, Dave Frerichs, and Jeff Tock gained precious points for the Maroons.

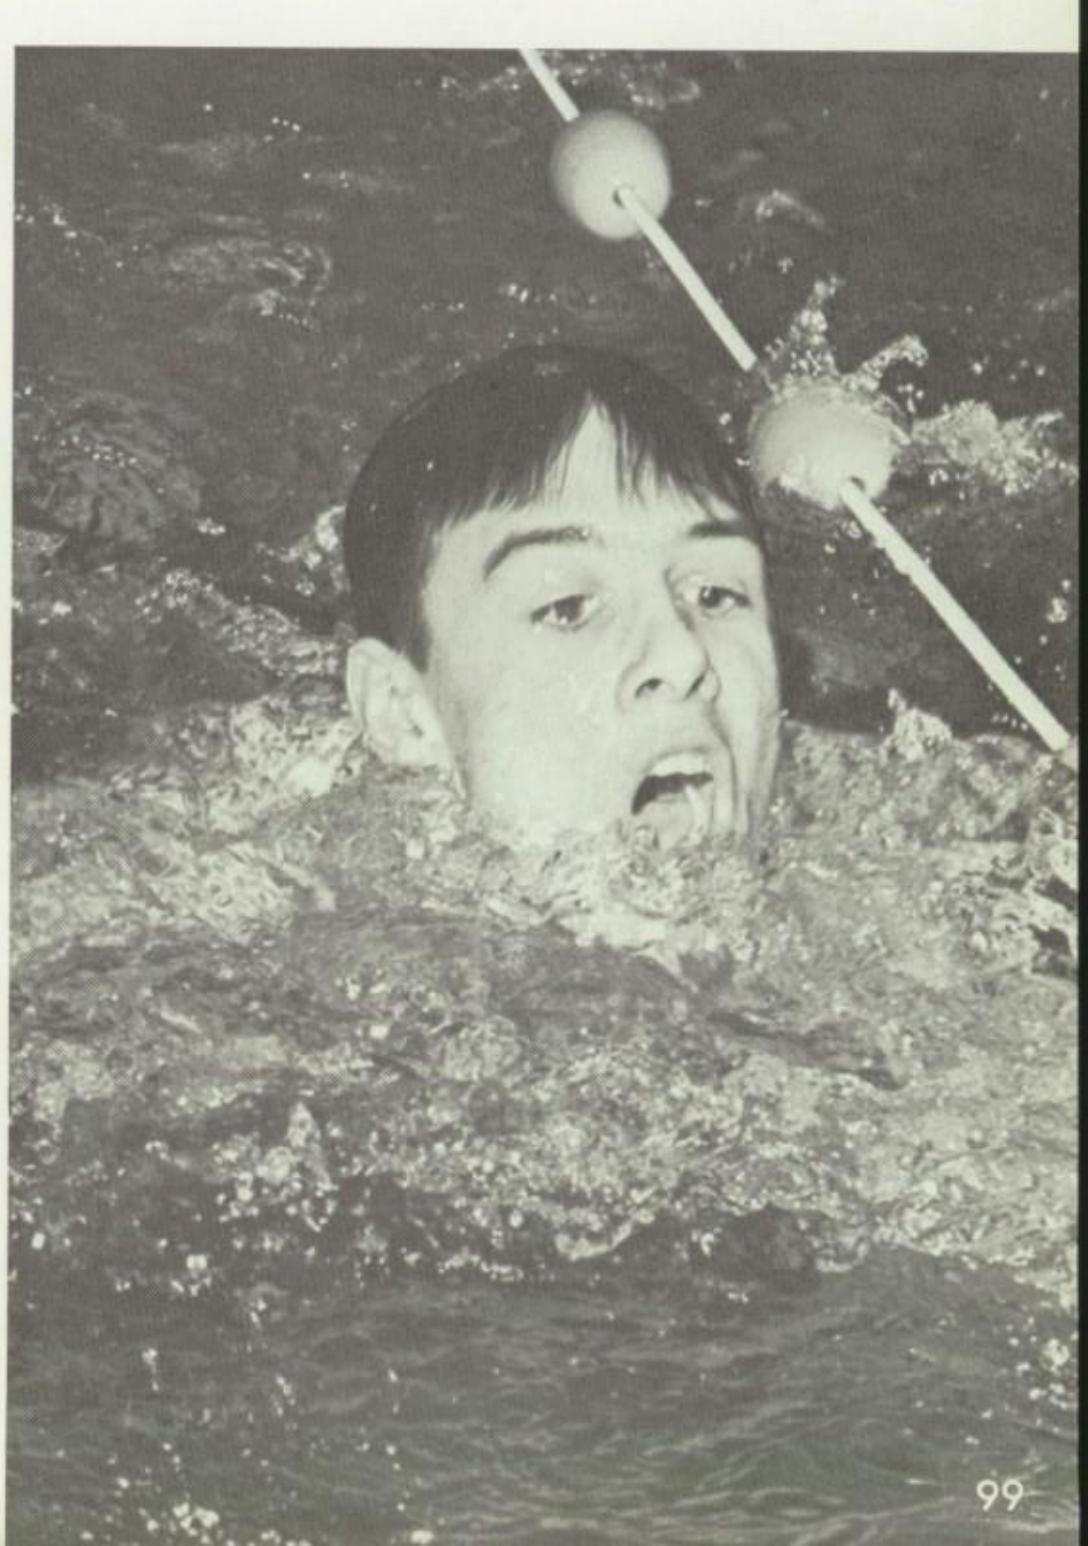
Outstanding Tankers Set New Records

January 9, Champaign brought home a third-place trophy from the 25-team Riverside-Brookfield invitational meet. Gold medal winners were Kip Pope, breaking the meet record in the 100-yard breaststroke, and the medley relay consisting of Tom Bonnell, Kip Pope, Dave Frerichs, and Jeff Trigger, which turned in a record breaking time 1:46.6. Also placing high were Frerichs with a second in the 100-yard butterfly, and the freestyle relay team which placed a strong sixth.

Coach Fredricks attributes the Maroons success to team balance and depth supplied by Jim Keller, Doug Hatfield, Rich Patton, Vernon Eroh, Gary Tummelson, and divers Mike Haley and Chuck Collinson. Coach Fredricks anticipated some outstanding performances in both the Conference and District competition.



Kip Pope is shown at the finish of the 100-yard breaststroke in which he eclipsed the state record.

Managers of

Last summer Dr. E. H. Mellon, Superintendent of Schools for the past 22 years, traveled to Seattle to accept the National Education Association's Pacemaker Award in behalf of the Champaign Unit Four School District. The honor, given to a total of eight school systems across the country which were judged as outstanding in some way, was awarded to Champaign on the basis of the all-around excellence of the program.

Mr. George P. Hankinson came to the school system in 1963. As Assistant Superintendent for Business, he is responsible for gathering information for the annual budget, processing all purchase orders, and is in charge of transportation, maintenance, and cafeteria programs. He has the supervision of all 245 non-academic staff members as well as the payroll of all employees. The school budget which Mr. Hankinson administers will exceed nine and one-half million dollars this year.

Unit Four Pacemaker Team

Robert Cooley, is primarily concerned with the Unit Four educational program. As an extension of this responsibility, he serves as permanent chairman of the Faculty Curriculum Board.

Dr. Cooley left his post as coordinator for curriculum development in the Kenosha, Wisconsin, public schools to come to Champaign in 1963.

The Unit Four Board of Education is comprised of Champaign citizens from varied walks of life. It includes housewives, one farmer, and employees of the University of Illinois, the county probation office, and a brokerage firm.

A chief concern of the Board this year was the referendum for the completion of phase II of the Annex, which will become Champaign's second high school. In the fall, Mr. William Froom, President, and other Board members presented information about the bond referendum to the community. With the passage of the referendum on December 5, work on Phase II got underway.

Working to Maintain CHS Unity

Mr. Kelly now in his twenty-eighth year of school administration, is one of two high school principals on the Illinois Commission for the Advancement of School Administration, has been the Big 12 Conference president for the past two years, and serves on the state Curriculum Committee of the High School Association. In his spare time Mr. Kelly enjoys stamp collecting, hunting, and fishing, and has travelled extensively throughout the United States.

Mr. Richard H. Longenecker, Associate Principal in charge of the Annex, came to Champaign from an Assistantship at Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana. In addition to his duties as supervisor of some five hundred-fifty students at the Annex, he is working to obtain his Doctor of Education degree.

The Annex and Champaign High will function as one school, until completion of Phase II of the Annex, to meet requirements of the Illinois High School Association.

Business correspondence brings together two CHS administrators, Miss Zehner and Mr. Kelly.

Duties Increase with Enrollment

Miss Nell Zehner came to CHS as a biology teacher in 1941, and is spending her final year at CHS after having remained to serve as Vice-Principal and Dean of Girls for the past nineteen years. She has also been student council sponsor during her career at CHS and spent one year, 1949, as acting principal. The souvenir collection accumulated by Miss Zehner in her travels throughout Europe, India, and Central and South America went unaugmented last summer, as she occupied her vacation time working at the high school.

Mr. Carl Nelson has held the position of Assistant Principal and Dean of Boys for the past three-and-a-half years. He received his Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Illinois, his Master of Arts from Northwestern University, and is presently involved in a graduate project in school administration at the University of Illinois. During the summer he set up the school calendar in cooperation with the student council and Mr. Kelly.

Greg Maltby, Administrative Assistant

Assistants in CHS Administration

Mr. Greg Maltby returns to Champaign High this year as Administrative Assistant after serving as Dean of Boys last year to those high school students attending Jefferson on a part-time basis. Among his many tasks are the supervision of data processing for CHS. He is also a member of the Teacher Evaluation Committee for Unit Four and the Unit's Data Processing Committee. He is presently working toward a doctorate in administration.

Mr. Arthur Turner is an Administrative Intern at the Annex under a program sponsored by the National Association of Secondary School Principals. This program is designed to train school leaders in new ideas to keep pace with today's educational needs. Mr. Turner came to the Annex from Edison Junior High School. He holds a B.A. from Franklin College.

Handling Office, Business Duties

The jobs of the school secretaries range from mailing grade cards, handling faculty mail and daily attendance in the main and attendance offices, to forwarding transcripts and class ranks in the counseling office, and working with candy sales in the music office. Five of the secretaries employed by both buildings of the high school are CHS graduates, and among them they have four sons and daughters now attending CHS and two more who graduated last year.

All the bookkeeping and money matters concerning CHS are handled through the office of Mr. Dillman, the high school's business manager. A few of these are the supervision of book rentals, the handling of supply orders, and the management of all funds for CHS organizations from such activities as bake sales and hops.

Library Adds New Microfilm

A year's subscription to Harper's compressed onto a four-inch reel is part of the resource available at the CHS library through the use of microfilm. Three magazines and one newspaper are now available on microfilm in addition to the other reference materials.

The new library at the Annex provides new features of individual study booths and recording equipment in addition to having a suite of rooms used for reading, working, and lecturing.

The Annex library is headed by Mrs. Deane Hill, formerly from the high school. The library at the high school is under the direction of Mrs. Marjorie Schaeve.

Counseling Office Provides Brochures

Most students are familiar with the personal guidance available in the counseling office through work with a counselor on schedule setup, test scores, or individual personal problems. But many are not aware of the many references available to the student in the counseling office. They include career brochures from Armed Services to Engineering, college catalogues, scholarship and college listings such as "The Lovejoy and Jones Scholarship Guide" and the "College Blue Book." For the first time counselors are acting as co-ordinators in specific fields like scholarship data, job placement, and testing, and compiling the information into efficient form for use.

English Staff Expands to Near 20

An Elizabethan feast, complete with wassail bowl, Queen Elizabeth, and assorted other characters from Shakespeare's day proved a highlight in one world literature class this year; for others, a high point was the visit of Dr. Lawrence Lerner, a University of Sussex English professor, who spoke to seniors on Jane Austen and Victorian literature.

The basic English program tried a new approach to semantics and grammar, using materials from the University of Illinois. In literature, new paperback titles have been added at all levels, including My Antonia, Three Lincoln Plays, Lord of the Flies, Winesburg Ohio, Separate Peace, and All the Kings Men.

An important new development is the humanities course, Project Creativity, offered in conjunction with other departments and supported in part by funds from the state. In the project, students have done individual research, led discussions and debates, and written short stories, plays, and poetry.

From the teaching staff of 19, Miss Grace Wiley will retire this year after long service in the department.

Social Studies Offers 11 Courses

Variety is the word for course offerings in the social studies department. A total of eleven courses are available from the fields of history, geography, psychology, sociology, and economics. In concurrance with election year, contemporary history classes held party conventions and sponsored a school wide election with the slate used in the official election in Illinois. Senior Project Creativity students read Where I stand by Senator Barry Goldwater and My hope for America by President Lyndon Johnson. Contemp students were given the opportunity to work at campaign headquarters for their projects. In junior Creativity students studied combined literature and history units on the Declaration of Independence, westward expansion, industrialism, and the Civil War.

Right above, Mr. Bowman exemplifies the exuberance and agility common to the social studies department. Right below, Dave O'Brien, Lee Pellum, and Ken Roy participate in one of the frequent panel discussions held in Mr. Lehman's classes. Below, Bernard Gilliland, Beth Halcrow, Mary Miller, Gayle Weeden, and Jack Earley heed Mr. Bowman's theory on economics.

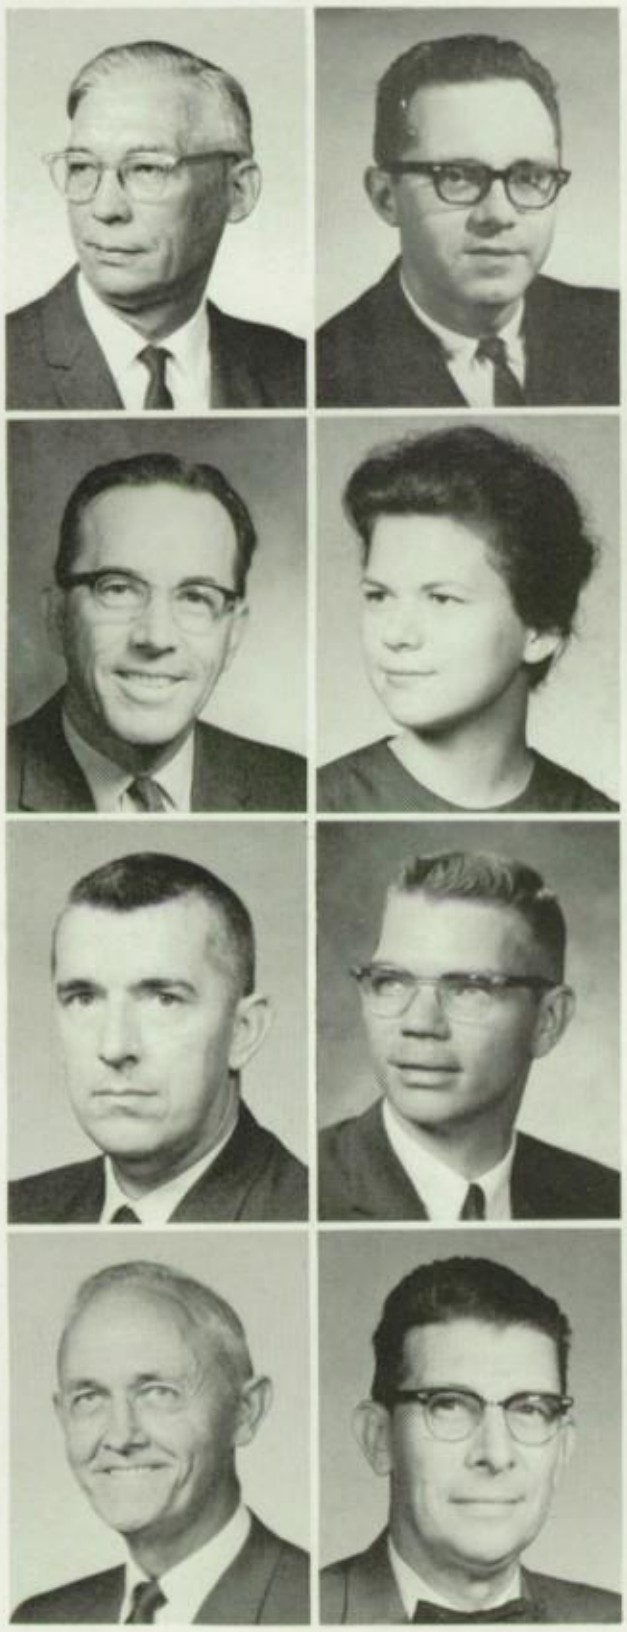
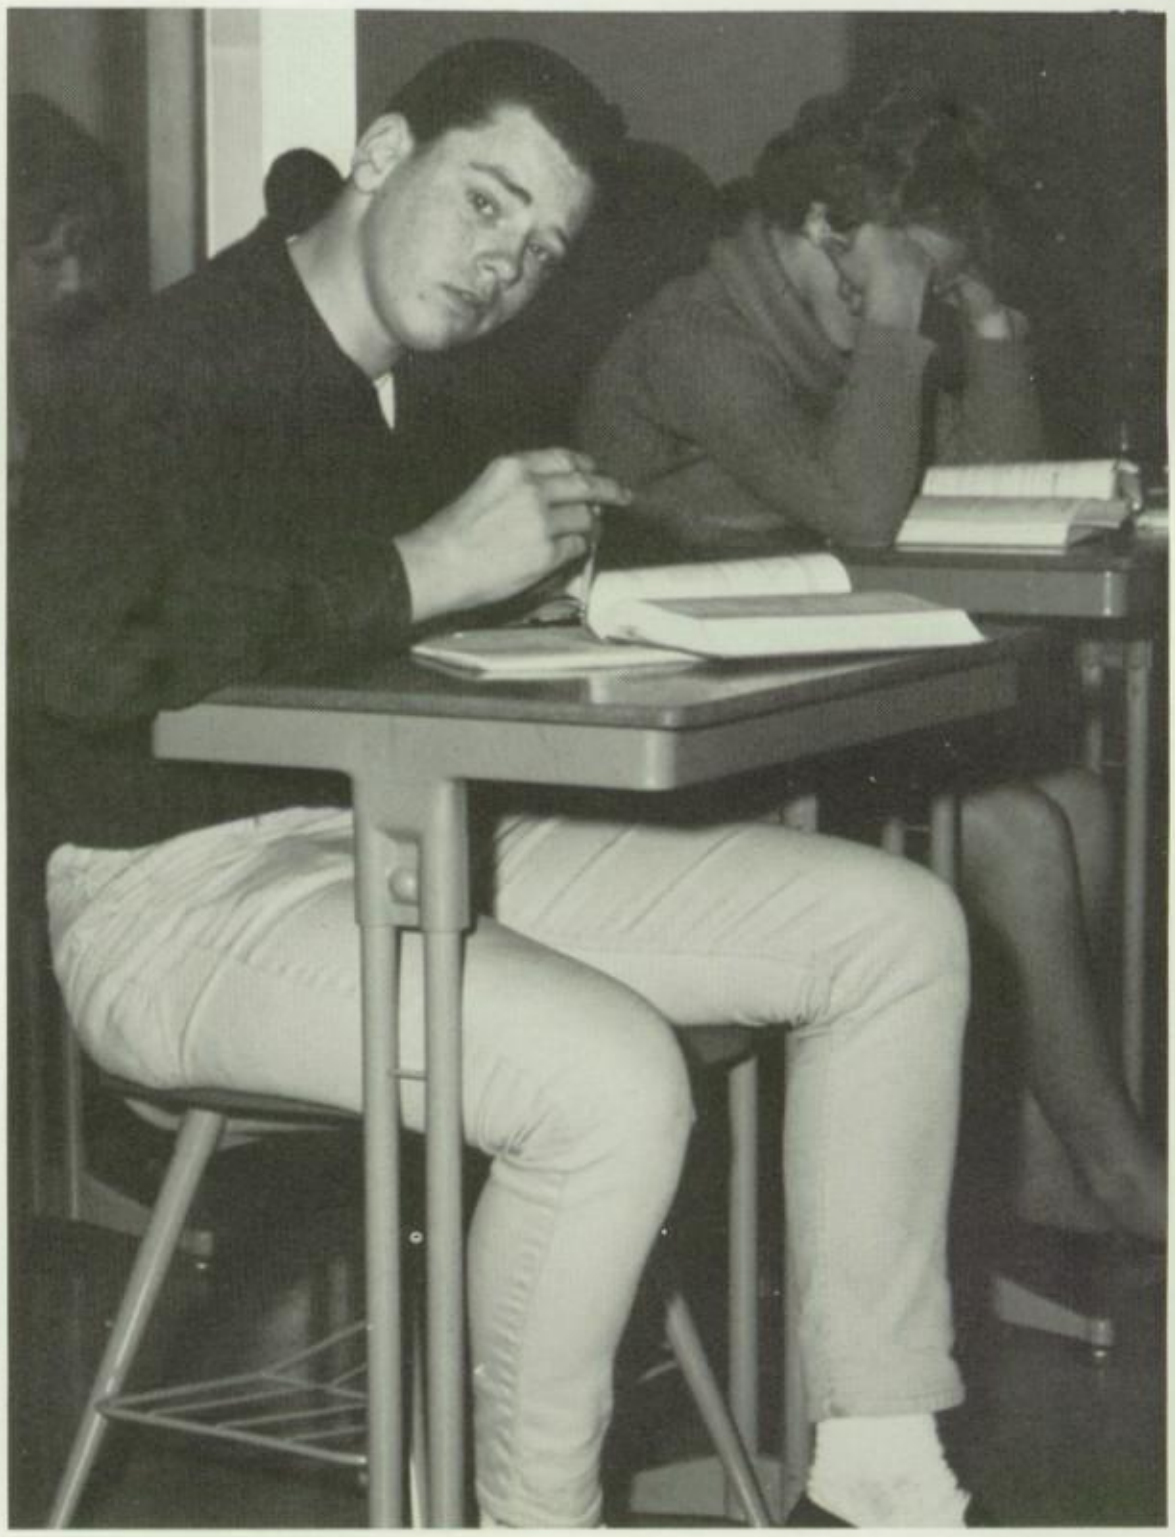
The ten teachers in the math department represent an increase of three teachers over last year's staff. Several of the teachers are also members of the science and counseling staffs and two others serve in Project Creativity in the study of economics. A new textbook, Modern Algebra, has been added. Eventually the series to which it belongs will replace the present traditional texts. Courses offered range from beginning Algebra and geometry through calculus and U. of I. on-campus math for those who wish to study higher mathematics.

After many years at CHS Mr. William Clark, department head retires this year.



Terry Rosenberger pauses while pursuing a proof in geometry.



Advanced Courses

Elementary students are being introduced to the principles of physics through talks and demonstrations given by several advanced physics students to fourth and fifth classes. Advanced courses are offered in the three fields of biólogy, chemistry, and physics. A new approach is being used to teach beginning biology, called the Biology Science Curriculum Study, which uses the discovery method to encourage students to gather information and draw conclusions through lab exercises. Although science courses are not required at CHS, enrollment in them keeps pace with school expansion, as is indicated by the 17 classes offered in chemistry, nine in biology, and five in physics.

Annex Provides a

Supplement to CHS Language Lab

Language labs and class recitation are becoming the focal point as foreign language classes study through the oral-aural method. In this program emphasis is placed on conversation and comprehension of the spoken word. One exception is the experimental program at the Annex in first- and second-year Spanish using a visual-audio program. Modern language classes make use of the recording facilities for aid in easier correction of their pronunciation difficulties.

The new language laboratory at the Annex is the newest and best-equipped in the school system. Each student booth has a tape recorder plus regular equipment for more efficiency in lab work. When the lab is completely finished, taped programs can be sent from a center on first floor to the second floor lab, regular classrooms, and small study carrels between classrooms.

The Annex language lab facilitates learning as Mrs. Lamar's second year French class sings "Dominique."

Musical, Tour, Candy, and Song

Cold hands were the trademark and early hours the habit of the CHS marching band who began practice at seven-thirty four days a week for half-time shows. Another mark of the music department was the boxes of candy sold to satisfy the sweet tooth of students while providing funds for the music tour. Band and choir students travelled to Holland, Michigan this year. Spring again brought the annual musical produced by the department, as music students made up as Guys and Dolls. Two teachers new to the department came to CHS from Champaign junior highs: Mr. Victor Self from Franklin and Mr. James Rouintree from Edison.

Artists Profit by U of I Proximity

Art students at CHS have an advantage in the nearness of the University of Illinois. Students made use of Krannert Art Museum for field trips to see displays such as The Tree's Gallery, and also used the U. of I. as a source of guest speakers. Students also made field trips to the Art Institute of Chicago and the St. Louis art museum. When not taking trips or listening to speakers, students could make use of new drying cabinets and a kiln for pottery.

Business: 4 Clubs, List of 17 Courses

To give students a choice of business-oriented clubs, the Business Education department sponsors Office Occupations, Distributive Education, Commercial Club, and Future Secretaries. The Business department offers not only the largest number of clubs of any department, but also the largest number of courses. These 17 courses include notehand, merchandising, advanced bookkeeping, and data processing, all of which have been initiated in the last two or three years. CHS is also one of 24 schools in Illinois with both DE and co-op training programs. The department also prints a pamphlet with suggested three-year schedules for prospective trainees for various business positions.

Metal, Wood Shops Build House

Two new shops at the Annex and two teachers were added to the industrial arts department this year to accommodate the ten courses being offered. The industrial arts department offers a variety of courses in architecture and engineering drawing, building trades, operating presses, auto, wood, and metal shops. A new course this year is industrial orientation. The department decorates a show case located on the second floor in which students can see samples of drafting and shop work. State industrial awards were given in May, 1965, to students for outstanding projects in industrial art.

Home-Ec, Ag Use Digests, Journals

Periodicals serve the home economics department as some of the most frequently used references. Students use such always up-to-date "texts" as Consumer's Report, Ladies Home Journal, House Beautiful, and Redbook to keep us with new developments in the area of home economics. This year the home-ec department purchased a washer dryer unit for clothing care study. An interesting fact about the department is that one fifth of the students taking home-ec are boys.

With only one teacher and four courses, the agriculture department is the smallest one at CHS. But, in spite of its size, the department sponsors an active FFA club in addition to its regular curriculum. The general agriculture class course has been revised and a new four-year course of study is now in use for the vocational classes. The Ag department uses current research studies from universities and private agricultural firms as their text material.

P. E. Adds Ping Pong, Parallel Bars

Shuffle board and ping pong may seem unusual additions to the games of soccer, softball, baseball, basketball usually played in P. E. They are played however by students at the Annex who have no gym facilities for indoor use during bad weather. In addition to the new equipment for the Annex, the P. E. department also purchased peg boards, a side horse, and parallel bars for the boys. Nine weeks of health was included in the schedule of sophomores at the Annex in addition to the safety usually taught.

While others spend P. E. at foursquare and ping pong, Mark Koster and Bob Touchberry play shuffleboard.

Trade, Studies Combined in YP

In-school work, on-the-job training, industrial field trips, vocational classes where occupations are studied—these are part of the educational program of the Youth Project. The programs of students in the Youth Project are further courses in social studies, language arts, mathematics, science, art, commercial studies, industrial arts, music, and homemaking.

Vocational counselors help Youth students in their job preparation during high school. After graduation from high school students are encouraged and helped to get additional training such as trade schooling or apprenticeship.

Stories, puppets, and toys are aid materials for Sandra Foy, Valarie, Kindle, and Sandra Ross in their study of child care.

ROBERT STONEBURNER: B.A., Southern Illinois University, Illinois State University. Hobbies are reading, hunting . . . MRS. CAROLE ZISSIMOPOULOS: B.S., University of Illinois.

PTA–Parent's Liaison with CHS

Confusion reigned as parents attempted to follow their children's schedule at the annual PTA open house. The year's first PTA meeting was opened with a meeting presided over by the co-presidents, the Russell Odells. The other officers are Mrs. R. Simon, first vice-president; Mrs. E. Warner, second vice-president; Mrs. Robert Hoyne, secretary; and Mr. P. Gelvin, treasurer.

A program was presented in the winter outlining opportunities in the service for boys. Dean E. T. Sanford, Director of Undergraduate Scholarships at the U. of I., spoke to parents at another meeting. PTA members carried out extensive telephone campaign in the fall to help get the bond referendum passed.

Parents listen to Mrs. Kaufmann's explanation of their sons' and daughters' work in junior Project Creativity.

Peggy Brown struggles with the problem of helping puzzled parents follow their children's schedule at the fall open house.

Service Personnel Number 27

One hundred pounds of flour per day, 680 pounds of ground beef, 450 of roast beef, and 1,200 of turkey for the 17 school days in December is a sample of the amount of supplies used by the CHS cafeteria. The food is prepared by a staff of 17. Seven A.M. will find six workers and the manager baking rolls and preparing lunch for 900 people. At different times during the morning 10 more women report for duty and work four to six hour shifts.

All building maintenance, repair, and improvement jobs at CHS and the Annex are performed by the 10 members of the janitorial staff. Three of these are graduates of CHS, and one has been at CHS for 13 years.

Iva Philippi and Jane Protsmas, cafeteria manager, complete the first step in preparation of turkey pot pie.

Ray Haskell, Dave McDowell, and Harry Windland mop up after water pipes burst at the Annex.

Underclass

We still have time left
To enjoy our school . . .
Share together its opportunities;
Yet each of us knows tomorrow will come . . .
And we will no longer be Underclassmen.

Leading this year's sophomore class are its officers: Roger Tippy, president; Donna Reed, vice-president; Anne Miller, treasurer; and Jean Black, secretary.

Class of '67

"V-I-C-T-O-R-Y! That's the sophomore battle cry!" And a plaintive one it was too! The pep and backing given our teams by the sophomores contributed much to school spirit. Class officers Roger Tippy, president; Donna Reed, vice-president; Jean Black, secretary; Anne Miller, treasurer; and class sponsors, Mr. Barry Moskowitz and Mr. Lynn Raney encouraged students' participation in clubs, sports, and the challenging occupation of meeting new people.

To the dismay of many sophomores, the class of '67 was involved in a major division: some members attending the main building, and some, the brand new Annex, three miles away. Buses provided transportation out to the Annex in the morning for a full day of English, history, math, and science; then it was back to the main building for pep assemblies, basketball practice, club meetings, or simply catching up on the news.

The sophomore class has proved that though they were split between two buildings, they were still one in spirit. And to help make up for the hardships, the Class of '67 is specially privileged in two ways. Besides being the first students to use the new facilities at the annex, this year's sophomores will graduate during the year which marks the 100th anniversary of the school.

Still wrapped with prom decorations, the junior class officers are, clockwise from top: Jim Lateer, president; Linda Schilling, secretary; Dominic Bellucci, treasurer; and Tish Coughlin, vice-president.

Class of '66

"United we stand—divided we fall." Who can deny these famous words to the Class of '66? Although the class was the first to emerge from three different junior high schools, it will be the last to graduate as a whole from CHS.

Making the most of this year were class president, Jim Lateer; vice-president, Tish Coughlin; secretary, Linda Schilling; treasurer, Dominic Bellucci; and class sponsors, Mr. John Macek, and Mr. Les Bowman. For them the year's proceedings aroused many emotions—nervousness, anger, enjoyment, self-satisfaction, and of course, fatigue.

Enthusiasm was generated in the early weeks of school in the excitement of choosing class rings. Closely following this, prom committees were set-up for decorations, moneymaking, and entertainment. The class promoted such things as the Junior class coat-check for home basketball games, selling lollipops, and the annual pancake supper.

The Class of '66 will always remember Project Creativity, one-way stairs, and getting trampled en route to lunch. With these fresh in mind, we now look on to club presidencies, major sports positions, and being leaders of CHS in our senior year.

Underclassmen's faces show concern as they watch the basketball team in action.

Waiting to Be Seniors . . .

Underclassmen's thoughts turn inevitably toward dreams of being a senior. Above: Juniors Kathy Bair, Pat Judy, Gayle Fairchild, and Kathy Dickerson keep this in mind as they relax on a Saturday afternoon. Right: Sophomore Dave Rexroad varies the normal routine of a lunch hour with antics only an underclassmen could think of. Far Right: Senior Nancy Easterbrook impresses the tradition of honoring the school plaque upon underclassman Don Pierce.

DISTRICT CHAMPS 1963
BIG 12 CHAMPS 1963

Seniors

We've shared many experiences . . .
Learned together, laughed together,
Developed our individual personalities;
For us, tomorrow is here.
We are . . .
the Seniors.

We're Finally Seniors

Senior class officers: Gary Tummelson, President; Mary Douglas, Treasurer; Bob Simpson, Vice-President; and Sandy Conkwright, Secretary.

Seniors are always finding a different way to do things. These seniors congregated to fix a flat tire, but finish by enjoying an afternoon in the park.

"I just don't feel like studying" might be what Carolyn Harper is thinking. This statement has a familiar ring to the ear of many seniors.

Happiness is a senior year.
A joyous laugh, a parting tear,

A glance down the future's broadening way,
Secure in that it's still today.

As seniors we must bid farewell,
That last "snap" course—a final bell,

Pep assemblies, the dances too,
All the things we like to do.

The games, the musicals, the plays,
All the joys of carefree days,

The senior assembly, the senior party,
Senior-itis—always tardy.

And finally the Senior Prom
Attended by us with great aplomb.

Each thing we do to be our last,
Our senior year—a part of the past.

The end, the beginning—far, yet near.
Happiness was a senior year.

Dear CHS,

The Maroon staff has spent over two thousand hours in producing the 1965 annual. Many have been long and hectic, but most of them have been wonderful.

The last deadline has been met, and your yearbook sent to the printer. The pages have been edited many times; but if we have still overlooked an error, I extend to you our apologies.

It is our hope that the 1965 Maroon will help you to remember CHS as the school where the student can be "one of the group . . . and yet, an individual."

Linda Wood, Editor

Special Thanks to . . . Mrs Battis (for everything)

Steve-
You know as well as I do what I should be doing to your yearbook. But I guess I won't. It been a lot of fun - Creativity this year. (brown - rosin' + reading the Bible) I didn't think I'd ever get out of Betty's class. Good luck next year + have fun this summer.
Stay HAPPY!
Charlie S.
P.S. Don't forget you're said you'd be the first junior boy to - - - - !? ##

Hi Stevie —
I feel so privileged! ... I'm actually the first girl to sign your magnificent yearbook! Wow! I'll treasure it always! Dee Dee Dee

Hi, Steve - You didn't even ask me to sign your Maroon but I just wanted to tell you that I don't mean all the things I've been saying to you lately. I don't think you're nasty and terrible at all! Well, that's all...

Janet Sue Miller

P.S. You're pretty lucky because most people have to beg me for days before I'll sign their yearbooks and then I generally just put my initials.

Spooter,

Fun-day a beautiful U.S. 7#6 drag-strip. If you love boredom; be there! I don't think I have read one chapter in History this year. "I think so lets do this way!" May the Hen rest in peace. Did you ever see so many Gremmies on Honda 50's. If your cool you got to a have a Honda 65.

Catch you this summer!
Time for "Strech" time.

Later,
"Dobie"

Stephen,
You've got the intelligence and ability to go along in fine fashion in whatever field you choose.
I think a little less socializing and a bit more work will take you anywhere you want.
Work hard on your swimming this summer. You can be up there next season.
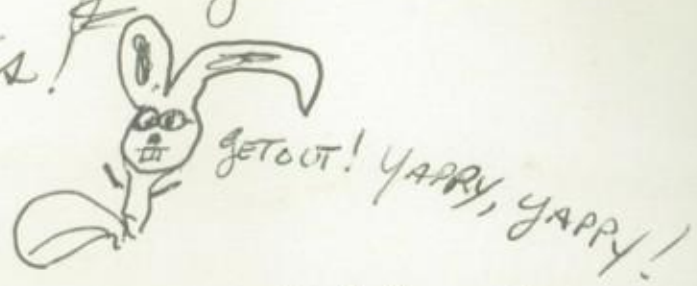
See you at the club this summer. Take it easy
Guy Nunnelson

Geeze ~ I could write a book, honest, but ill save it all for later... much later. Much goes without saying... too much else doesn't. So here. The whole blasted year... ... smoldering ropes, games, dances, pushy mutts, underclass rankness, that silly play we did for Mrs. K., the Negro, P.P.&f., Macbeth (never did read that!)... on. Now the — we managed, uncreatively, to ... through "Creativity" is beyond me. Oh, well. ... cum you was a riot... let's please go Skateboarding as a result you gave her more dull! struggle this semester, I can't help but recold you again - soon. I do, however, enjoy your company... cum Las, that it was Helen will never be the same, and altho I do, I realize, and accept responsibility for my "affair" partly due to a large no. of circumstances, but actually due to a large part for the part you played... (thanks) dearly for sticking beside me, didn't you, devotion is yours for the asking & must apologize. Stay awful mess - you did stay beside me through!!! this summer), let I'm babbling & must go (I've a bottle) and if you're not too give me all empty l. bottles busy cum your TOM!!! ... have fun & forget me hear from you. have fun & forget Sake, don't do anything I wouldn't do. Let's strive to be good Seniors together)... good luck.

Love always,

Lucia Durant

O-and every time it rains, it rains pennies from Heaven - (yumbrella). Son-of-a-gun- we had-some-fun-with Herr Baltis!



But he just couldn't get too mad at a Sugar Bear!

I guess next year will have den Karnickle too. Und Folge Beine, and all Bierschen auch! Zu viel. Hang on Sugar and maybe we can compose another song like King of the Vine! Its been great fun all year, though. Good luck with your swimming and Honda! To a great guy who rides the vine with me (with the greatest of ease!)
